

HUN LOSSES ON TUESDAY WERE LARGE

HUNS LOSE SEVERAL THOUSAND SOLDIERS IN ATTACK NEAR YPRÉS EARLY THIS WEEK.

DRIVE WILL CONTINUE

Defeat Does Not Mean That Germans
Will Discontinue Drive.—Will Undoubtedly Try Another
Place in Line.

London, May 1.—The failure of the German attack southwest of Ypres on Monday with its immense losses to the enemy is commented on here in a more hopeful and more confident tone which is in marked contrast with some recent comments on the news of the progress of the German advance toward the channel ports. The consensus of opinion is the enemy on Monday suffered the most severe and costly repulse since he began his offensive on March 21, and it is contended that if the terms of victory and defeat are applicable to single phases of such a prolonged battle then the allies on Monday won a very substantial victory.

Nevertheless, the commentators warn against optimism. They mark that although the enemy has failed, it does not mean necessarily that the enterprise has been abandoned, but rather suspended in favor of an attack at some point where a successful defense seems less assured.

Artillery Duels,

Paris, May 1.—Artillery duels of some intensity occurred last night on Somme front near Villers-Bretonneux and on both sides of the Aisne south of Amiens, says today's war news report.

Improve Position,

London, May 1.—French troops last night improved their position in the neighborhood of Loker on the Plan-d'Avion front, the war office announces. The British rushed the German posts in Meteren sector and took prisoners.

Confirm Reports,

London, via Ottawa, May 1.—As details of Monday's fighting are received confirming the fact that it was the worst day of the war, the English papers have experienced since the opening of the great offensive, the English papers, hitherto reticent in view of the fluctuation of the battle, now comment on the battle in a tone of confidence they have not hitherto displayed.

All Quiet.

Today's official statement reveals no break in the comparative quiet on all the recently active fronts in Flanders and to the south. In local fighting in the former area the British and Welshmen attack by the Germans near Termon, northeast of Ypres, and both prisoners from German posts which were rustled in the vicinity of Meteren.

French Gain.

The French troops in Flanders carried out a small operation which was important in that it improved their position on the valuable holding in the center of the British and Welshmen attack by the Germans near Termon, northeast of Ypres, and both prisoners from German posts which were rustled in the vicinity of Meteren.

German Punishment.

The French troops in Flanders carried out a small operation which was important in that it improved their position on the valuable holding in the center of the British and Welshmen attack by the Germans near Termon, northeast of Ypres, and both prisoners from German posts which were rustled in the vicinity of Meteren.

French Gain.

The French troops in Flanders carried out a small operation which was important in that it improved their position on the valuable holding in the center of the British and Welshmen attack by the Germans near Termon, northeast of Ypres, and both prisoners from German posts which were rustled in the vicinity of Meteren.

Hold Lines.

Apparently the allied commanders are content to hold their present line and let the Germans make more attacks in an effort to drive them back. In their efforts to repulse the Germans, not only did they gain a though using more forces than the defenders, but they were driven from some positions they held since the capture of German last week.

Strong Artillery Bombardment.

The Germans have been laying great numbers of shells into a French position around Hargaud in the Somme, probably in preparation for still another attempt to drive the French back to the Aisne. The third in the third in the German Attack.

A German attack in the Noyon sector brought the enemy into French positions. From which, however, they were repelled in violent fighting. American artillery on the Picardy front had been busy shooting many targets, but they had not yet made any impact on the front. American aviators have brought down a German plane, the third in the

"I'LL TAKE YOUR ORDERS," SAYS HURLEY;
"I HAVE NONE TO GIVE," SAYS SCHWAB

New photo of Edward N. Hurley (left) and Charles M. Schwab.

Pope Benedict Will Issue New Proposal For Peace Shortly

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS]

The Hague, May 1.—Emperor Charles of Austria-Hungary accompanied by Baron Burian, the foreign minister and their staffs according to exchange telegraph dispatch from Zurich will proceed almost immediately to German headquarters to confer with the German Emperor. Ukrainian and Balkan affairs it is added will be discussed.

AUSTRIAN EMPEROR TO VISIT HEADQUARTERS

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS]

London, May 1.—Emperor Charles of Austria-Hungary accompanied by Baron Burian, the foreign minister and their staffs according to exchange telegraph dispatch from Zurich will proceed almost immediately to German headquarters to confer with the German Emperor. Ukrainian and Balkan affairs it is added will be discussed.

STATE FARMERS MEET TO FORM NEW LEAGUE

[BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS]

Madison, May 1.—Bent upon asserting their strength in political and economic issues, farmers of the state gathered here today to launch a new political league.

Under the preliminary name of the Wisconsin Farmers' Progressive League, farmers, laborers and industrial workers brought together to build a plan for participation in "after the war" readjustments. The League probably will adopt a new name. One suggested by leaders in the Wisconsin Industrial League.

Primarily the members to participate effectively in state politics, probably with one of the leading parties already organized. A platform will be adopted and an effort will be made to interest either the Republican or Democratic parties in its purpose with a view to concentrate in the farmer and industrial vote in the fall elections.

Government ownership of the railroads is probably the biggest item in the League's program. Other public utilities they believe should be owned either by the government, state or municipalities as the situation affecting each requires.

It is probable the League will eventually endorse municipal or possibly county ownership of telephone systems, as much as possible to concentrate in the farmer and economic importance of the election district.

Primarily the members to participate effectively in state politics, probably with one of the leading parties already organized. A platform will be adopted and an effort will be made to interest either the Republican or Democratic parties in its purpose with a view to concentrate in the farmer and industrial vote in the fall elections.

Primarily the members to participate effectively in state politics, probably with one of the leading parties already organized. A platform will be adopted and an effort will be made to interest either the Republican or Democratic parties in its purpose with a view to concentrate in the farmer and industrial vote in the fall elections.

He illustrates his article with a discussion of the existing districts which have been altered in character by natural process through the shifting of the population cityward during the last half century. Thus, eleven of the largest Prussian cities exceeding Berlin in size but far below Berlin, will have but fifty-two under the measure, whereas they are entitled to ninety-two. Berlin, with two million population, has twelve delegations while West Prussia, with 1,750,000, has twenty-two delegates. Pomerania, with 1,750,000, has sixteen delegations and East Prussia, with two million population, thirty-six delegations. Each free conservative is elected by 13,000 electors, and each progressive required 28,000 and each socialist 40,000 votes.

FRANCHISE IN PRUSSIA WORTHLESS

REFORM MEASURE CONCEALS CUNNINGLY DEVISED PROVISIONS WHICH WILL RENDER BILL ILLUSORY.

OF GREAT IMPORTANCE

Government is Assisted for Making Attempt to Smuggle Plural Franchise—Socialist Makes Attack.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS]

Stockholm, May 1.—The Prussian franchise reform measure conceals a cunningly devised provision which will render the whole reform illusory if it should be adopted, according to Heinrich Stroebel, a socialist member of the Prussian Diet. In an article in the independent socialist organ, the Leipzig Volks Zeitung, Herr Stroebel assailed the government bill as "an attempt to smuggle the plural franchise in through the rear door and thus render the equal franchise utterly worthless."

Population is Basis.

Herr Stroebel quoted the following provisions from the act of May 30, 1849, regarding the formation of the election district.

"The election district shall be erected on the basis of population, as shown by the last census."

New Bill Provisions.

The writer then cited the paragraph in the new bill regarding districts, which read:

"The erection of the election district and the apportionment of electors shall be determined by taking regard to the number of inhabitants in the territories, as well as to historic and economic importance of the election district."

Herr Stroebel pointed out the significance of the provision regarding the area of the provision of the district and declared other provisions of the paragraph will permit those who do the redistricting to consider "the number of swine and cattle and the historic importance of the district from the viewpoint of true aggregation of Prussians and will make the existing inequalities of apportionment the normal condition."

These Articles.

He illustrates his article with a discussion of the existing districts which have been altered in character by natural process through the shifting of the population cityward during the last half century. Thus, eleven of the largest Prussian cities exceeding Berlin in size but far below Berlin, will have but fifty-two under the measure, whereas they are entitled to ninety-two. Berlin, with two million population, has twelve delegations while West Prussia, with 1,750,000, has twenty-two delegates. Pomerania, with 1,750,000, has sixteen delegations and East Prussia, with two million population, thirty-six delegations. Each free conservative is elected by 13,000 electors, and each progressive required 28,000 and each socialist 40,000 votes.

He illustrates his article with a discussion of the existing districts which have been altered in character by natural process through the shifting of the population cityward during the last half century. Thus, eleven of the largest Prussian cities exceeding Berlin in size but far below Berlin, will have but fifty-two under the measure, whereas they are entitled to ninety-two. Berlin, with two million population, has twelve delegations while West Prussia, with 1,750,000, has twenty-two delegates. Pomerania, with 1,750,000, has sixteen delegations and East Prussia, with two million population, thirty-six delegations. Each free conservative is elected by 13,000 electors, and each progressive required 28,000 and each socialist 40,000 votes.

He illustrates his article with a discussion of the existing districts which have been altered in character by natural process through the shifting of the population cityward during the last half century. Thus, eleven of the largest Prussian cities exceeding Berlin in size but far below Berlin, will have but fifty-two under the measure, whereas they are entitled to ninety-two. Berlin, with two million population, has twelve delegations while West Prussia, with 1,750,000, has twenty-two delegates. Pomerania, with 1,750,000, has sixteen delegations and East Prussia, with two million population, thirty-six delegations. Each free conservative is elected by 13,000 electors, and each progressive required 28,000 and each socialist 40,000 votes.

He illustrates his article with a discussion of the existing districts which have been altered in character by natural process through the shifting of the population cityward during the last half century. Thus, eleven of the largest Prussian cities exceeding Berlin in size but far below Berlin, will have but fifty-two under the measure, whereas they are entitled to ninety-two. Berlin, with two million population, has twelve delegations while West Prussia, with 1,750,000, has twenty-two delegates. Pomerania, with 1,750,000, has sixteen delegations and East Prussia, with two million population, thirty-six delegations. Each free conservative is elected by 13,000 electors, and each progressive required 28,000 and each socialist 40,000 votes.

He illustrates his article with a discussion of the existing districts which have been altered in character by natural process through the shifting of the population cityward during the last half century. Thus, eleven of the largest Prussian cities exceeding Berlin in size but far below Berlin, will have but fifty-two under the measure, whereas they are entitled to ninety-two. Berlin, with two million population, has twelve delegations while West Prussia, with 1,750,000, has twenty-two delegates. Pomerania, with 1,750,000, has sixteen delegations and East Prussia, with two million population, thirty-six delegations. Each free conservative is elected by 13,000 electors, and each progressive required 28,000 and each socialist 40,000 votes.

He illustrates his article with a discussion of the existing districts which have been altered in character by natural process through the shifting of the population cityward during the last half century. Thus, eleven of the largest Prussian cities exceeding Berlin in size but far below Berlin, will have but fifty-two under the measure, whereas they are entitled to ninety-two. Berlin, with two million population, has twelve delegations while West Prussia, with 1,750,000, has twenty-two delegates. Pomerania, with 1,750,000, has sixteen delegations and East Prussia, with two million population, thirty-six delegations. Each free conservative is elected by 13,000 electors, and each progressive required 28,000 and each socialist 40,000 votes.

He illustrates his article with a discussion of the existing districts which have been altered in character by natural process through the shifting of the population cityward during the last half century. Thus, eleven of the largest Prussian cities exceeding Berlin in size but far below Berlin, will have but fifty-two under the measure, whereas they are entitled to ninety-two. Berlin, with two million population, has twelve delegations while West Prussia, with 1,750,000, has twenty-two delegates. Pomerania, with 1,750,000, has sixteen delegations and East Prussia, with two million population, thirty-six delegations. Each free conservative is elected by 13,000 electors, and each progressive required 28,000 and each socialist 40,000 votes.

He illustrates his article with a discussion of the existing districts which have been altered in character by natural process through the shifting of the population cityward during the last half century. Thus, eleven of the largest Prussian cities exceeding Berlin in size but far below Berlin, will have but fifty-two under the measure, whereas they are entitled to ninety-two. Berlin, with two million population, has twelve delegations while West Prussia, with 1,750,000, has twenty-two delegates. Pomerania, with 1,750,000, has sixteen delegations and East Prussia, with two million population, thirty-six delegations. Each free conservative is elected by 13,000 electors, and each progressive required 28,000 and each socialist 40,000 votes.

He illustrates his article with a discussion of the existing districts which have been altered in character by natural process through the shifting of the population cityward during the last half century. Thus, eleven of the largest Prussian cities exceeding Berlin in size but far below Berlin, will have but fifty-two under the measure, whereas they are entitled to ninety-two. Berlin, with two million population, has twelve delegations while West Prussia, with 1,750,000, has twenty-two delegates. Pomerania, with 1,750,000, has sixteen delegations and East Prussia, with two million population, thirty-six delegations. Each free conservative is elected by 13,000 electors, and each progressive required 28,000 and each socialist 40,000 votes.

He illustrates his article with a discussion of the existing districts which have been altered in character by natural process through the shifting of the population cityward during the last half century. Thus, eleven of the largest Prussian cities exceeding Berlin in size but far below Berlin, will have but fifty-two under the measure, whereas they are entitled to ninety-two. Berlin, with two million population, has twelve delegations while West Prussia, with 1,750,000, has twenty-two delegates. Pomerania, with 1,750,000, has sixteen delegations and East Prussia, with two million population, thirty-six delegations. Each free conservative is elected by 13,000 electors, and each progressive required 28,000 and each socialist 40,000 votes.

He illustrates his article with a discussion of the existing districts which have been altered in character by natural process through the shifting of the population cityward during the last half century. Thus, eleven of the largest Prussian cities exceeding Berlin in size but far below Berlin, will have but fifty-two under the measure, whereas they are entitled to ninety-two. Berlin, with two million population, has twelve delegations while West Prussia, with 1,750,000, has twenty-two delegates. Pomerania, with 1,750,000, has sixteen delegations and East Prussia, with two million population, thirty-six delegations. Each free conservative is elected by 13,000 electors, and each progressive required 28,000 and each socialist 40,000 votes.

He illustrates his article with a discussion of the existing districts which have been altered in character by natural process through the shifting of the population cityward during the last half century. Thus, eleven of the largest Prussian cities exceeding Berlin in size but far below Berlin, will have but fifty-two under the measure, whereas they are entitled to ninety-two. Berlin, with two million population, has twelve delegations while West Prussia, with 1,750,000, has twenty-two delegates. Pomerania, with 1,750,000, has sixteen delegations and East Prussia, with two million population, thirty-six delegations. Each free conservative is elected by 13,000 electors, and each progressive required 28,000 and each socialist 40,000 votes.

He illustrates his article with a discussion of the existing districts which have been altered in character by natural process through the shifting of the population cityward during the last half century. Thus, eleven of the largest Prussian cities exceeding Berlin in size but far below Berlin, will have but fifty-two under the measure, whereas they are entitled to ninety-two. Berlin, with two million population, has twelve delegations while West Prussia, with 1,750,000, has twenty-two delegates. Pomerania, with 1,750,000, has sixteen delegations and East Prussia, with two million population, thirty-six delegations. Each free conservative is elected by 13,000 electors, and each progressive required 28,000 and each socialist 40,000 votes.

He illustrates his article with a discussion of the existing districts which have been altered in character by natural process through the shifting of the population cityward during the last half century. Thus, eleven of the largest Prussian cities exceeding Berlin in size but far below Berlin, will have but fifty-two under the measure, whereas they are entitled to ninety-two. Berlin, with two million population, has twelve delegations while West Prussia, with 1,750,000, has twenty-two delegates. Pomerania, with 1,750,000, has sixteen delegations and East Prussia, with two million population, thirty-six delegations. Each free conservative is elected by 13,000 electors, and each progressive required 28,000 and each socialist 40,000 votes.

He illustrates his article with a discussion of the existing districts which have been altered in character by natural process through the shifting of the population cityward during the last half century. Thus, eleven of the largest Prussian cities exceeding Berlin in size but far below Berlin, will have but fifty-two under the measure, whereas they are entitled to ninety-two. Berlin, with two million population, has twelve delegations while West Prussia, with 1,750,000, has twenty-two delegates. Pomerania, with 1,750,000, has sixteen delegations and East Prussia, with two million population, thirty-six delegations. Each free conservative is elected by 13,000 electors, and each progressive required 28,000 and each socialist 40,000 votes.

He illustrates his article with a discussion of the existing districts which have been altered in character by natural process through the shifting of the population cityward during the last half century. Thus, eleven of the largest Prussian cities exceeding Berlin in size but far below Berlin, will have but fifty-two under the measure, whereas they are entitled to ninety-two. Berlin, with two million population, has twelve delegations while West Prussia, with 1,750,000, has twenty-two delegates. Pomerania, with 1,750,000, has sixteen delegations and East Prussia, with two million population, thirty-six delegations. Each free conservative is elected by 13,000 electors, and each progressive required 28,000 and each socialist 40,000 votes.

He illustrates his article with a discussion of the existing districts which have been altered in character by natural process through the shifting of the population cityward during the last half century. Thus, eleven of the largest Prussian cities exceeding Berlin in size but far below Berlin, will have but

ALLEN DEARBORN HAS BEEN AT FRONT TWICE

JANESEVILLE BOY WRITES THAT HE HAS BEEN IN ACTIVE SERVICE AND HAS HELPED TO CRUSH THE GERMAN ONSLAUGHTS

IS NOW BACK FOR REST

Enjoying Much Needed Rest In Little French Town Twenty Miles From A Railroad And Four Miles From Germany

Dodging the big shells of the Huns and putting over barrages are vividly described by Allen Dearborn in his letter. He is now with Battery E of the 19th U. S. Field Artillery, in France, and tells of his experiences at the front, having been there twice. His letter is typical of the feelings of the American soldiers in France.

He writes of meeting some Wisconsin boys that he knew who were also friends of the Tippett boys. "On Wisconsin" is pretty good music for a Badger state boy to hear when two thousand miles from home, and it was the singing of this song by marching troops that resulted in the meeting of his friends. His letter, in full, follows:

Somewhere in France, April 9, 1918.

I received your letter and surely was glad to hear from you. Your letters are certainly appreciated as they are always so "newey."

Again since my last letter to you I have been pretty busily plied with plenty of work without change in scenery. You may have read in the newspapers about the Rainbow division being at the front. Well, we sure have been there, left for a rest area, stopped, and sent back again. Let me assure you, in a proud but not conceited way, that we gave a splendid account of ourselves in our assault on the Boches many a "deadliest night." Our days and nights were filled with good, hard work, with a little recreation now and then for eating and sleeping, and I can again assure you that we had all the thrills that you could expect, plenty of smoke, noise, and many, many big explosions bursting about us. It gives a fellow a mighty fine feeling to know that his little individual efforts ate of some value toward crushing the Hunns. For three weeks a detail of ten men and myself were engaged in night work to every minute just off duty digging the German out of their positions in the front. The Germans had sent over a heavy barrage lasting about two full hours. It is a great experience to be located in a place where you know they are going to break—tear them coming and shriek over your head. The best way I can explain the sound of our approach is to tell you that coming down Main street at a great rate of speed. Well, when you hear that sound approaching it is wonderful to know just how fast you can fall to the ground, stretch out and endeavor to camouflage yourself. It has proved to be the quickest and safest way.

On the 2nd day of March about seven o'clock in the evening we were over the prettiest barrages ever hoped to witness. Every gun in our regiment, every French battery for miles around opened fire, and for two hours one-half the guns roared. The sky was one mass of flame, it seemed, and here was a place where it was too noisy to think. Well, to make the story short, we were sent back to New York, Ohio and Alabama boys (fighting machine) went over the top, took a few prisoners, and captured some valuable information.

The next day we left and arrived at a large French town. We rested for one day, and the following day we started out for a night's walk. We were about 150,000. At dusk about twenty kilometers and an order came to stop where we were to await further orders. We quartered in a little French village for one week, and finally the order came that we were going to take over another sector, so we started for the fray the following morning. We were in a small, isolated bunch of thatch for half a month, and here was no food, needed rest—and then to be turned back so suddenly—but such trials are all in the game of war—the disappointment was soon forgotten. At the present writing I am situated about four miles from Germany, twenty miles from the nearest railroad, and it seems thousands of miles from civilization. The service has insurance to the extent of $100, which is kept up by their respective agencies. The local folks have seventeen men in the service.

CHICAGO HERALD AND EXAMINER TO MERGE

Chicago, May 1.—The Chicago Herald, it was announced on Tuesday, has been sold to the Chicago Printing & Publishing Co., and will be consolidated with the Examiner. The transaction will start at two o'clock and will continue until 5 p.m. patriotic songs and several addresses.

Rev. Williamson will have charge of the dedication. J. J. Cunningham will talk on Eagle progress and the Eagle patriotic fund. William Spohn of Madison, formerly of this city, will give the main address, using as his topic "Patriotism." The Eagles are all expected to be present, and the public of the city are cordially invited to attend.

Sunday, May 5, has been designated by the Grand Army of Eagles as the date for the dedication of Eagle service flags throughout the entire country. There are 17,000 Eagles in the service in the country at the present time. Each Eagle in the service has insurance to the extent of $100, which is kept up by their respective agencies. The local folks have seventeen men in the service.

The amalgamation applies to both daily and Sunday editions. James Keiley, editor of the Herald, has been invited by two European governments for war work to conduct investigations and report to the American people. He will be absent about three months. He will serve the Herald and Examiner in an advisory capacity.

Gazette Mail Subscribers NOTICE

A notice will be attached to your copy of the Gazette five days prior to the date your subscription expires, the expiration date being known on the little yellow tag on the label or wrapper. Watch this label, and see that the date is changed within ten days after your remittance has been sent. We mail no receipts unless specifically requested. The date as shown by the label answers as your receipt.

Watch for the expiration notice, as all mail subscriptions are discontinued on expiration, and prompt payment means that you will miss no issues of the Gazette.

On sale at St. Joseph's Convent, identification cards and pocket folders for soldiers and sailors. Also numerous religious articles.

Bargains in almost everything are found in the Gazette classified ads.

CONFERENCE HELD WITH DIRECTORS OF COMMERCIAL CLUB

Projector of the Proposed Chamber of Commerce Arrives in the City.

Col. Charles Alen Simmons of the American City Bureau of New York City, arrived in Janesville yesterday afternoon and at five o'clock held a conference with the members of the board of directors of the Commercial club over the plans for the organization of a chamber of commerce, along civic lines, for the benefit of the entire community.

President George S. Parker presided at the meeting. Others on the board of directors present were: T. O. Howe, H. B. Ellis, Amas Rehberg, Joseph M. Connors, Edward Anteroh and Louis Levy.

Plans for an organization campaign have been worked out, following visits by Lucas Wilson, Harry O. Evans and General J. C. Foster several weeks ago. A complete survey of the city is to be made to determine the plans which are to be followed in the campaign, and headquarters are to be established, from which the work will be directed, with general supervision.

Committees on various lines of activity are to be named within the next few days. The American City Bureau has had experience in more than a hundred cities of the United States in establishing strong institutions for the benefit of the entire community.

Later it is planned to call a series of open meetings, in which the entire scope of the work is to be outlined for the general understanding and approval of the public.

April 9, 1918.

I received your letter and surely was glad to hear from you. Your letters are certainly appreciated as they are always so "newey."

Again since my last letter to you I have been pretty busily plied with plenty of work without change in scenery. You may have read in the newspapers about the Rainbow division being at the front. Well, we sure have been there, left for a rest area, stopped, and sent back again. Let me assure you, in a proud but not conceited way, that we gave a splendid account of ourselves in our assault on the Boches many a "deadliest night."

Our days and nights were filled with good, hard work, with a little recreation now and then for eating and sleeping, and I can again assure you that we had all the thrills that you could expect. There were many, many big explosions bursting about us. It gives a fellow a mighty fine feeling to know that his little individual efforts ate of some value toward crushing the Hunns. For three weeks a detail of ten men and myself were engaged in night work to every minute just off duty digging the German out of their positions in the front. The Germans had sent over a heavy barrage lasting about two full hours. It is a great experience to be located in a place where you know they are going to break—tear them coming and shriek over your head. The best way I can explain the sound of our approach is to tell you that coming down Main street at a great rate of speed. Well, when you hear that sound approaching it is wonderful to know just how fast you can fall to the ground, stretch out and endeavor to camouflage yourself. It has proved to be the quickest and safest way.

On the 2nd day of March about seven o'clock in the evening we were over the prettiest barrages ever hoped to witness. Every gun in our regiment, every French battery for miles around opened fire, and for two hours one-half the guns roared. The sky was one mass of flame, it seemed, and here was a place where it was too noisy to think. Well, to make the story short, we were sent back to New York, Ohio and Alabama boys (fighting machine) went over the top, took a few prisoners, and captured some valuable information.

The next day we left and arrived at a large French town. We rested for one day, and the following day we started out for a night's walk. We were about 150,000. At dusk about twenty kilometers and an order came to stop where we were to await further orders. We quartered in a little French village for one week, and finally the order came that we were going to take over another sector, so we started for the fray the following morning. We were in a small, isolated bunch of thatch for half a month, and here was no food, needed rest—and then to be turned back so suddenly—but such trials are all in the game of war—the disappointment was soon forgotten. At the present writing I am situated about four miles from Germany, twenty miles from the nearest railroad, and it seems thousands of miles from civilization. The service has insurance to the extent of $100, which is kept up by their respective agencies. The local folks have seventeen men in the service.

WILL DEDICATE FLAG SUNDAY AFTERNOON

Grand Army of Eagles Will Hold Service Flag Dedication on Sunday.

Attorney William Spohn

Will Speak.

Janesville Eagles No. 724, will hold their service flag dedication on Sunday, May 5th, at their hall. The ceremony will start at two o'clock and will consist of singing of patriotic songs and several addresses.

Rev. Williamson will have charge of the dedication. J. J. Cunningham will talk on Eagle progress and the Eagle patriotic fund. William Spohn of Madison, formerly of this city, will give the main address, using as his topic "Patriotism." The Eagles are all expected to be present, and the public of the city are cordially invited to attend.

Sunday, May 5, has been designated by the Grand Army of Eagles as the date for the dedication of Eagle service flags throughout the entire country. There are 17,000 Eagles in the service in the country at the present time. Each Eagle in the service has insurance to the extent of $100, which is kept up by their respective agencies. The local folks have seventeen men in the service.

CHICAGO HERALD AND EXAMINER TO MERGE

Chicago, May 1.—The Chicago Herald, it was announced on Tuesday, has been sold to the Chicago Printing & Publishing Co., and will be consolidated with the Examiner. The transaction will start at two o'clock and will continue until 5 p.m. patriotic songs and several addresses.

Rev. Williamson will have charge of the dedication. J. J. Cunningham will talk on Eagle progress and the Eagle patriotic fund. William Spohn of Madison, formerly of this city, will give the main address, using as his topic "Patriotism." The Eagles are all expected to be present, and the public of the city are cordially invited to attend.

Sunday, May 5, has been designated by the Grand Army of Eagles as the date for the dedication of Eagle service flags throughout the entire country. There are 17,000 Eagles in the service in the country at the present time. Each Eagle in the service has insurance to the extent of $100, which is kept up by their respective agencies. The local folks have seventeen men in the service.

Gazette Mail Subscribers NOTICE

A notice will be attached to your copy of the Gazette five days prior to the date your subscription expires, the expiration date being known on the little yellow tag on the label or wrapper. Watch this label, and see that the date is changed within ten days after your remittance has been sent. We mail no receipts unless specifically requested. The date as shown by the label answers as your receipt.

Watch for the expiration notice, as all mail subscriptions are discontinued on expiration, and prompt payment means that you will miss no issues of the Gazette.

On sale at St. Joseph's Convent, identification cards and pocket folders for soldiers and sailors. Also numerous religious articles.

Bargains in almost everything are found in the Gazette classified ads.

BOARD PREPARES FOR ENTRAINMENT OF MEN WHO LEAVE SATURDAY

Make Ready For Sending Quota Of Thirty-Two Selects To Columbus Barracks Saturday Afternoon At Five-Twelve.

With the sending of the quota to Camp Grant yesterday completed, the local board is now preparing for the entrainment of the next bunch of selects to leave the city. Thirty-two men whose names were recently announced, will leave for Columbus Barracks, Columbus, Ohio, next Saturday afternoon at five-twelve o'clock, over the St. Paul line.

Arriving in Chicago at eight-thirty they will remain there until midnight when they will leave on a special train over the New York Central line to Toledo, and thence to Columbus, arriving there Sunday noon. The branch of the service that they will enter has not been announced.

Arriving in Chicago at eight-thirty they will remain there until midnight when they will leave on a special train over the New York Central line to Toledo, and thence to Columbus, arriving there Sunday noon. The branch of the service that they will enter has not been announced.

Arriving in Chicago at eight-thirty they will remain there until midnight when they will leave on a special train over the New York Central line to Toledo, and thence to Columbus, arriving there Sunday noon. The branch of the service that they will enter has not been announced.

Arriving in Chicago at eight-thirty they will remain there until midnight when they will leave on a special train over the New York Central line to Toledo, and thence to Columbus, arriving there Sunday noon. The branch of the service that they will enter has not been announced.

Arriving in Chicago at eight-thirty they will remain there until midnight when they will leave on a special train over the New York Central line to Toledo, and thence to Columbus, arriving there Sunday noon. The branch of the service that they will enter has not been announced.

Arriving in Chicago at eight-thirty they will remain there until midnight when they will leave on a special train over the New York Central line to Toledo, and thence to Columbus, arriving there Sunday noon. The branch of the service that they will enter has not been announced.

Arriving in Chicago at eight-thirty they will remain there until midnight when they will leave on a special train over the New York Central line to Toledo, and thence to Columbus, arriving there Sunday noon. The branch of the service that they will enter has not been announced.

Arriving in Chicago at eight-thirty they will remain there until midnight when they will leave on a special train over the New York Central line to Toledo, and thence to Columbus, arriving there Sunday noon. The branch of the service that they will enter has not been announced.

Arriving in Chicago at eight-thirty they will remain there until midnight when they will leave on a special train over the New York Central line to Toledo, and thence to Columbus, arriving there Sunday noon. The branch of the service that they will enter has not been announced.

Arriving in Chicago at eight-thirty they will remain there until midnight when they will leave on a special train over the New York Central line to Toledo, and thence to Columbus, arriving there Sunday noon. The branch of the service that they will enter has not been announced.

Arriving in Chicago at eight-thirty they will remain there until midnight when they will leave on a special train over the New York Central line to Toledo, and thence to Columbus, arriving there Sunday noon. The branch of the service that they will enter has not been announced.

Arriving in Chicago at eight-thirty they will remain there until midnight when they will leave on a special train over the New York Central line to Toledo, and thence to Columbus, arriving there Sunday noon. The branch of the service that they will enter has not been announced.

Arriving in Chicago at eight-thirty they will remain there until midnight when they will leave on a special train over the New York Central line to Toledo, and thence to Columbus, arriving there Sunday noon. The branch of the service that they will enter has not been announced.

Arriving in Chicago at eight-thirty they will remain there until midnight when they will leave on a special train over the New York Central line to Toledo, and thence to Columbus, arriving there Sunday noon. The branch of the service that they will enter has not been announced.

Arriving in Chicago at eight-thirty they will remain there until midnight when they will leave on a special train over the New York Central line to Toledo, and thence to Columbus, arriving there Sunday noon. The branch of the service that they will enter has not been announced.

Arriving in Chicago at eight-thirty they will remain there until midnight when they will leave on a special train over the New York Central line to Toledo, and thence to Columbus, arriving there Sunday noon. The branch of the service that they will enter has not been announced.

Arriving in Chicago at eight-thirty they will remain there until midnight when they will leave on a special train over the New York Central line to Toledo, and thence to Columbus, arriving there Sunday noon. The branch of the service that they will enter has not been announced.

Arriving in Chicago at eight-thirty they will remain there until midnight when they will leave on a special train over the New York Central line to Toledo, and thence to Columbus, arriving there Sunday noon. The branch of the service that they will enter has not been announced.

Arriving in Chicago at eight-thirty they will remain there until midnight when they will leave on a special train over the New York Central line to Toledo, and thence to Columbus, arriving there Sunday noon. The branch of the service that they will enter has not been announced.

Arriving in Chicago at eight-thirty they will remain there until midnight when they will leave on a special train over the New York Central line to Toledo, and thence to Columbus, arriving there Sunday noon. The branch of the service that they will enter has not been announced.

Arriving in Chicago at eight-thirty they will remain there until midnight when they will leave on a special train over the New York Central line to Toledo, and thence to Columbus, arriving there Sunday noon. The branch of the service that they will enter has not been announced.

Arriving in Chicago at eight-thirty they will remain there until midnight when they will leave on a special train over the New York Central line to Toledo, and thence to Columbus, arriving there Sunday noon. The branch of the service that they will enter has not been announced.

Arriving in Chicago at eight-thirty they will remain there until midnight when they will leave on a special train over the New York Central line to Toledo, and thence to Columbus, arriving there Sunday noon. The branch of the service that they will enter has not been announced.

Arriving in Chicago at eight-thirty they will remain there until midnight when they will leave on a special train over the New York Central line to Toledo, and thence to Columbus, arriving there Sunday noon. The branch of the service that they will enter has not been announced.

Arriving in Chicago at eight-thirty they will remain there until midnight when they will leave on a special train over the New York Central line to Toledo, and thence to Columbus, arriving there Sunday noon. The branch of the service that they will enter has not been announced.

Arriving in Chicago at eight-thirty they will remain there until midnight when they will leave on a special train over the New York Central line to Toledo, and thence to Columbus, arriving there Sunday noon. The branch of the service that they will enter has not been announced.

Arriving in Chicago at eight-thirty they will remain there until midnight when they will leave on a special train over the New York Central line to Toledo, and thence to Columbus, arriving there Sunday noon. The branch of the service that they will enter has not been announced.

Arriving in Chicago at eight-thirty they will remain there until midnight when they will leave on a special train over the New York Central line to Toledo, and thence to Columbus, arriving there Sunday noon. The branch of the service that they will enter has not been announced.

Arriving in Chicago at eight-thirty they will remain there until midnight when they will leave on a special train over the New York Central line to Toledo, and thence to Columbus, arriving there Sunday noon. The branch of the service that they will enter has not been announced.

Arriving in Chicago at eight-thirty they will remain there until midnight when they will leave on a special train over the New York Central line to Toledo, and thence to Columbus, arriving there Sunday noon. The branch of the service that they will enter has not been announced.

Arriving in Chicago at eight-thirty they will remain there until midnight when they will leave on a special train over the New York Central line to Toledo, and thence to Columbus, arriving there Sunday noon. The branch of the service that they will enter has not been announced.

Arriving in Chicago at eight-thirty they will remain there until midnight when they will leave on a special train over the New York Central line to Toledo, and thence to Columbus,

The Janesville Gazette

New Bldg., 200-201 E. Milwaukee St.

STEREO AT THE OFFICE AT JANEVILLE,
WIS., AS SECOND CLASS MAIL MATTER.BUSINESS OFFICE OPEN SATUR-DAY EVENING.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES.

By Carrier In Mo. Yrs. Advance
Janesville $10.00 $2.83 $3.70Distant Rivers In Mo. Yrs. Payable Rock Co. and trade territory $25.00 In Advance.
Mo. Yrs. Payable
Post Mail $10.00 In Advance.This newspaper is a member of the Press and Patriotic Press Association and pledges its unswerving loyalty to our
Government in this war.

MEMBER OF THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

The Associated Press is exclusive of all newspapers in the country to it or not otherwise credited in this paper and also the local news published herein.

LAWRENCE C. WHITETT.

Announcement from Madison that Lawrence C. Whittet of Edgerton, for three times elected a member of the assembly from Rock county, and twice chosen as speaker of the assembly, is to retire at the expiration of his present term, is a source of regret to his many friends in the first assembly district. Mr. Whittet has served long and faithfully in the interests of his constituents and the announcement he is to give up his charge means that a new man must be chosen in his place at the primaries next September.

Not only as a member of the assembly, but as speaker of that body, Mr. Whittet has made many friends, not alone at home, but throughout the state at large. The Madison Capital, edited by a member of the assembly from Dane county, a member who vigorously opposed Mr. Whittet and his policies during the last regular and special session, stops in the discussion of every day affairs to pay the following well earned and justly merited tribute to his ability and the loss of the state in his decision to retire.

Lawrence Whittet, speaker of the assembly, has announced that he will not be a candidate for the legislature again.

It is with a sense of personal disappointment that we learn of Mr. Whittet's decision. The editor of this paper served with Mr. Whittet in the last legislature. While we were in radical disagreement on a majority of the issues and principles that came before the body, yet the highest regard was always to be paid Mr. Whittet as a presiding officer.

We recently happened in upon the house of representatives at Washington. Since that time we have been more than ever impressed with Mr. Whittet's ability as a speaker. The house at Washington looked and sounded like a wheat pit. Decorum seemed to be the last thing thought of. Members talked but no one seemed to pay any attention to what was said.

Mr. Whittet brought dignity to the Wisconsin legislature. He always insisted on regular and orderly procedure. Law making to him was a serious business and he stood for no fooling. He was stern in his insistence upon continuing business to the question at hand and did not allow personal abuse or vilification.

On many occasions we fought Mr. Whittet's rulings. But in the main he was fair. He did not abuse his immense powers to any greater extent than a speaker having convictions of his own usually does.

And so we say that it is with genuine regret that we learn that Mr. Whittet will be lost to the legislature as a presiding officer.

In another direction we desire to pay tribute to Mr. Whittet. Months ago when it was the fashion to abuse Wisconsin and its locality, Mr. Whittet was about defending Wisconsin. While other officials high in the service of the state were trailing with the crowd and denouncing the state, Mr. Whittet was marching his array of facts to prove that Wisconsin was out in the forefront in her contributions to the war. Mr. Whittet now has the satisfaction of seeing the mad scramble for the lead wagon upon which he has been riding for a year. Mr. Whittet's Janesville speech was a strong reply to the defectors of the state.

"The good wishes of members of the legislature will go with Lawrence Whittet."

NOT THE END.

The battle now raging in France is not the last battle of the present war no matter what the outcome. Thus far the English and the French, with the aid of their allies, have kept the Huns in check, have fought with their backs up to the wall, and while the Germans have forced their lines forward, at a tremendous loss of life, they have gained really but little when it is taken in the concrete, although they have lost hundreds of thousands of lives in the attempt.

The call for more troops from the United States has been heralded and they are being rushed as fast as possible, with all the speed of the ships and railroads, from training camps to sea ports, and then across the water. It is a task to transport a division of men, thirty odd thousand, many miles by rail and later by boat. Not only does it tax the capacity of the shipping facilities, for the men themselves, but think of the amount of food and supplies that must accompany them.

However, the United States has waded up to the war. Secretary Baker knows now it is not three thousand miles away and we may expect some concrete results instead of dictatorial tactics that have marked the recent attempts to speed up construction and arming and equipping soldiers.

TO MARCH TOGETHER.

The Janesville high school has dropped track military drill, in which all the boys are supposed to participate, rational athletics and rational patriotism. The Janesville plan should become the practice in every high school in the state. To teach our boys to follow the day in a common column shoulder to shoulder and in step is to teach them the elemental lesson in citizenship."

This is the way the Wisconsin State Journal pays its compliment to the local high school battalion, the volunteer organization of young men who have devoted two evenings a week during the school session to master the work of the soldier.

Not only have they done that, but they have purchased their own uniforms and their appearance at the Liberty loan parade, and Tuesday, when they acted as escort to the selected men, was more than creditable to the boys and their officers.

These young soldiers have gone to work with vim and when the time comes that their services will be needed, they will be amply repaid for the weeks of preparation and study. Universal training is bound to come and in the meantime Janesville has gone a step in advance of the nation in the matter.

These boys have received instruction from the officers and non-commissioned officers of the Sixteenth Separate company, and once a week have had the use of the armory of this company for drill purposes. Now that they have demonstrated that military training is a good thing, why not have it made part of the high school course of study and arm and equip the boys properly?

THE STREETS.

Evidently the new council plans to take up the street problem seriously. They are building up the approaches to the city and also making plans for marking extensive repairs on present permanent highways. Whether they will take up any plan of extensive new street building remains to be seen, but under the present thought of some of the members of the highway committee this is doubtful. In the first place the cost of material is almost prohibitive; secondly, the shipment of material is difficult owing to war regulations, and thirdly, it is not the policy of any community to make unusual repairs and new construction during war days, and lastly—as the minister says in the long-winded sermon—you can not do it because the money is needed for war activity. However, the street committee of the council is going ahead and planning for extensive repairs that will be of material aid to the community.

The ranks of the Sixteenth Separate company's reserve contingent is rapidly increasing in numbers and will soon number a platoon strength. This war spirit hits the young and middle aged alike. Everyone wants to do their part and all are trying.

The sale of war savings stamps at the rate of $500,000,000 a year, suggests that a great many people have resolutely and heroically denied themselves a considerable part of their chewing gum and candy money.

The military experts, who have all the war information packed to the last detail in their massive brains, have not yet decided whether the allies command a force of 7,000,000 men or only 2,000,000.

Confidence is expressed that congress will thoroughly realize the need of more army cantonments about the time the big influx of the new draft arrives with their suit cases.

The socialists have always promised the people many luxuries. They fulfill their promise in Russia by giving the people the luxury of a terribly high cost government.

This man who won't buy a Liberty bond because he will lose three quarters of one per cent interest, evidently feels that his country is worth less than $7.50 to him.

The Germans were positively promised that they would be in Paris April 1st, and a large number there, being kindly cured for in the military hospitals.

Work on several thousand government post office buildings has been stopped, owing to the need of money for liberty bonds. War has some compensations.

The best base runner in 1918 reached first at the green peas, second at the beans, third at the sweet corn, and home with the potatoes in the collar.

Some people think they do great honor to the "Star Spangled Banner" by rising, yawning, and standing with their hands in their pockets while it is played.

The rural whalers who loaf around the corner grocery are convinced that the college girls won't be able to accomplish much on the farms.

The new women's skirts are well supplied with pockets, but from the masculine point of view they are too far out of reach of their hands.

Secrets of teachers complained of owing to low pay. Trumbo seems to be that they merely boil our brains instead of our stomachs.

The pacifists should remember that the wild beasts were never driven back to the jungle by the doves, the hawks, or the mice.

It is denied that the German soldiers aren't well fed, as they always take pains to fatten their cannon fodder.

The college crowd that comes home after losing a ball game is very doubtful about the value of the higher education.

By this time our latest offering to the national army know what camp life is like and what drill really means.

In order to prevent food from being wasted, some people are eating about twice as much as they want.

The best way for the pro-German papers to apologize for the harm they have done is to stop publication.

Bogus army officers imposing on people in some places. Place them in the front line trenches.

The people who are doing most to prolong the war are those who think the war is about over.

The American freshmen in the trenches are giving the German sophomores some hazing!

Another excellent use for the beef steak you get now, is to make armor plate out of it.

Eighty per cent of army shoes too short? Too bad.

Two Men Held.

Wausau, Wis., May.—Stanley Jarocha and Joseph Gorczyk, who claim that their homes are in Pulman, Ill., are being held here for the United States department of justice. The two men are under observation for some time as they were suspected of selling sedition literature, tending to obstruct the draft. Among their possessions were found copies of "The Finished Mystery," an anti-war book.

THE JANESEVILLE

MAY 1, 1918.

THE JANESEVILLE GAZETTE

200-201 E. MILWAUKEE ST.

STEREO AT THE OFFICE AT JANESEVILLE,
WIS., AS SECOND CLASS MAIL MATTER.BUSINESS OFFICE OPEN SATUR-DAY EVENING.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES.

Ex-Carrier In Mo. Yrs. Advance
Janesville $10.00 $2.83 $3.70Distant Rivers In Mo. Yrs. Payable Rock Co. and
trade territory $25.00 In Advance.
Mo. Yrs. Payable
Post Mail $10.00 In Advance.This newspaper is a member of the Press and Patriotic Press Association and pledges its unswerving loyalty to our
Government in this war.

MEMBER OF THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

The Associated Press is exclusive of all newspapers in the country to it or not otherwise credited in this paper and also the local news published herein.

LAWRENCE C. WHITETT.

Announcement from Madison that Lawrence C. Whittet of Edgerton, for three times elected a member of the assembly from Rock county, and twice chosen as speaker of the assembly, is to retire at the expiration of his present term, is a source of regret to his many friends in the first assembly district. Mr. Whittet has served long and faithfully in the interests of his constituents and the announcement he is to give up his charge means that a new man must be chosen in his place at the primaries next September.

Not only as a member of the assembly, but as speaker of that body, Mr. Whittet has made many friends, not alone at home, but throughout the state at large. The Madison Capital, edited by a member of the assembly from Dane county, a member who vigorously opposed Mr. Whittet and his policies during the last regular and special session, stops in the discussion of every day affairs to pay the following well earned and justly merited tribute to his ability and the loss of the state in his decision to retire.

Lawrence Whittet, speaker of the assembly, has announced that he will not be a candidate for the legislature again.

It is with a sense of personal disappointment that we learn of Mr. Whittet's decision. The editor of this paper served with Mr. Whittet in the last legislature. While we were in radical disagreement on a majority of the issues and principles that came before the body, yet the highest regard was always to be paid Mr. Whittet as a presiding officer.

We recently happened in upon the house of representatives at Washington. Since that time we have been more than ever impressed with Mr. Whittet's ability as a speaker. The house at Washington looked and sounded like a wheat pit. Decorum seemed to be the last thing thought of. Members talked but no one seemed to pay any attention to what was said.

Mr. Whittet brought dignity to the Wisconsin legislature. He always insisted on regular and orderly procedure. Law making to him was a serious business and he stood for no fooling. He was stern in his insistence upon continuing business to the question at hand and did not allow personal abuse or vilification.

On many occasions we fought Mr. Whittet's rulings. But in the main he was fair. He did not abuse his immense powers to any greater extent than a speaker having convictions of his own usually does.

And so we say that it is with genuine regret that we learn that Mr. Whittet will be lost to the legislature as a presiding officer.

In another direction we desire to pay tribute to Mr. Whittet. Months ago when it was the fashion to abuse Wisconsin and its locality, Mr. Whittet was about defending Wisconsin. While other officials high in the service of the state were trailing with the crowd and denouncing the state, Mr. Whittet was marching his array of facts to prove that Wisconsin was out in the forefront in her contributions to the war. Mr. Whittet's Janesville speech was a strong reply to the defectors of the state.

"The good wishes of members of the legislature will go with Lawrence Whittet."

NOT THE END.

The battle now raging in France is not the last battle of the present war no matter what the outcome. Thus far the English and the French, with the aid of their allies, have kept the Huns in check, have fought with their backs up to the wall, and while the Germans have forced their lines forward, at a tremendous loss of life, they have gained really but little when it is taken in the concrete, although they have lost hundreds of thousands of lives in the attempt.

The call for more troops from the United States has been heralded and they are being rushed as fast as possible, with all the speed of the ships and railroads, from training camps to sea ports, and then across the water. It is a task to transport a division of men, thirty odd thousand, many miles by rail and later by boat. Not only does it tax the capacity of the shipping facilities, for the men themselves, but think of the amount of food and supplies that must accompany them.

However, the United States has waded up to the war. Secretary Baker knows now it is not three thousand miles away and we may expect some concrete results instead of dictatorial tactics that have marked the recent attempts to speed up construction and arming and equipping soldiers.

TO MARCH TOGETHER.

The Janesville high school has dropped track military drill, in which all the boys are supposed to participate, rational athletics and rational patriotism. The Janesville plan should become the practice in every high school in the state. To teach our boys to follow the day in a common column shoulder to shoulder and in step is to teach them the elemental lesson in citizenship."

This is the way the Wisconsin State Journal pays its compliment to the local high school battalion, the volunteer organization of young men who have devoted two evenings a week during the school session to master the work of the soldier.

Not only have they done that, but they have purchased their own uniforms and their appearance at the Liberty loan parade, and Tuesday, when they acted as escort to the selected men, was more than creditable to the boys and their officers.

These young soldiers have gone to work with vim and when the time comes that their services will be needed, they will be amply repaid for the weeks of preparation and study. Universal training is bound to come and in the meantime Janesville has gone a step in advance of the nation in the matter.

These boys have received instruction from the officers and non-commissioned officers of the Sixteenth Separate company, and once a week have had the use of the armory of this company for drill purposes. Now that they have demonstrated that military training is a good thing, why not have it made part of the high school course of study and arm and equip the boys properly?

THE STREETS.

Evidently the new council plans to take up the street problem seriously. They are building up the approaches to the city and also making plans for marking extensive repairs on present permanent highways. Whether they will take up any plan of extensive new street building remains to be seen, but under the present thought of some of the members of the highway committee this is doubtful. In the first place the cost of material is almost prohibitive; secondly, the shipment of material is difficult owing to war regulations, and thirdly, it is not the policy of any community to make unusual repairs and new construction during war days, and lastly—as the minister says in the long-winded sermon—you can not do it because the money is needed for war activity. However, the street committee of the council is going ahead and planning for extensive repairs that will be of material aid to the community.

The military experts, who have all the war information packed to the last detail in their massive brains, have not yet decided whether the allies command a force of 7,000,000 men or only 2,000,000.

Confidence is expressed that congress will thoroughly realize the need of more army cantonments about the time the big influx of the new draft arrives with their suit cases.

The socialists have always promised the people many luxuries. They fulfill their promise in Russia by giving the people the luxury of a terribly high cost government.

THE SPUR OF THE MOMENT.

ROY X. MOULTON

ON THE SPUR OF THE MOMENT.

ROY X. MOULTON

ON THE SPUR OF THE MOMENT.

ROY X. MOULTON

ON THE SPUR OF THE MOMENT.

ROY X. MOULTON

ON THE SPUR OF THE MOMENT.

ROY X. MOULTON

ON THE SPUR OF THE MOMENT.

ROY X

Buy as Many Bonds of The Third Liberty Loan as You Think You Can Pay For Every dollar that you put in is going to increase your pride in yourself and your country.

THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK

Established 1855.

Make the Third Shot Tell

Make the Third Liberty Loan a Victory Loan

Subscribe Now.
Subscriptions close May 4th. You will regret it in after years if your name is not on the roll of honor of this loan.

Merchants & Savings Bank

The Oldest Savings Bank in Rock County.

CHIROPRACTOR E. H. DAMROW, D.C. PALMER SCHOOL GRADUATE. 209 Jackman Block

Both Phones 970.

F. W. MILLER CHIROPRACTOR 409-410 Jackman Block R. C. Phone 179 Hours 9 A. M. to 6 P. M. Lady Attendant Your Spine Examined Free. Bell Phone 1004.

Alice G. Devine CHIROPRACTOR

305 Jackman Block.
Hours: 1 to 5 and by appointment.
Phone: Office, Bell 121 W.; R. C. 140.

FLANDERS LEADER SURE OF VICTORY

CITIZENS ORGANIZE TO CONDUCT PARADES

NATIONAL WELFARE ASSOCIATION FORMED TO CARE FOR SELECTIVE DRAFT MEN AND TO GIVE THEM SUITABLE FAREWELL.

NEW MEMBERS INVITED

Membership is Not Limited—Dues Will Be Two Dollars Per Month to Be Used Towards Defraying Expenses.

There has been organized an association to be known officially as the "National Welfare Association," which has for its object the creation of a permanent fund which will be used to defray the expenses relative to the entertainment of selected draft men called into the federal service, to provide suitable escort to the trains and supplying the services men with comforts for their trip to their destination.

This organization is not limited in membership every citizen being invited to join for the duration of the war. The dues are fixed at two dollars a month, payable the first of each month in advance. Aside from the actual expenditure of money at the time the soldiers depart, there is always need for a permanent fund to look after others who may be invalids or convalescents, to supply the supreme sacrifice for the nation.

At the meeting held in the Library room of the Gazette Tuesday evening, it was decided to elect an executive committee consisting of a president, vice-president, secretary and treasurer, and the chairmen of the various auxiliary committees. Entertainment and social work will be the affairs of the association. A third committee chairman was provided for to be known as Federal committee, with the power to select the committee members left to the discretion of the chairman; this latter committee to work with federal authorities in matters of investigation.

Much enthusiasm was shown over the new organization and steps will be taken to secure members at once. Some forty have already signed the roll and paid their dues and it is hoped that the total list will reach a hundred and fifty or two hundred before the end of the week. The membership committee present was Alceson Krentz, Joseph M. Connors, J. E. Kenney, T. E. Welsh, H. H. Bliss, Prof. Basford and H. L. Maxfield. It was arranged to leave membership subscription blanks at the Gazette business office, and with Joseph Connors, at the T. J. Zeigler Clothing Company, and with Amos Rehberg at his store.

In view of the fact that a contingent of selected men leave on Saturday of this week, haste is needed in completing the membership list, and all citizens are urged to become members and pay their first month's dues to one of the membership committee or to H. D. Murdock, the secretary and treasurer, at the Bower City bank.

The membership list is open to any citizen and several ladies have already signified their intention of joining the association. The scope of the association is so wide and its powers practically unlimited that almost every activity that has to do with the care of the selective draft men or soldiers and sailors who may enlist or be drafted will be covered. One of the first steps taken was the decision to let the chairman of the various committees name their own members. This gives a good working force to start with.

The Y. M. C. A. has authorized the statement that the use of the building is at the disposal of any soldier or sailor visiting the city, and also is open to the selected draft men who may be called to the city or passing through, and invited to avail themselves of its privileges. Allie Razook also invited the men who are leaving Saturday to come to his place for refreshment before leaving the city. The invitation was received by the members of the association with applause.

The officers elected were George A. McKey, president; Thomas Welsh, vice-president; H. D. Murdock, secretary and treasurer; Sidney Bostwick, chairman of the Arrangements Committee; William P. Langdon, chairman of the Finance Committee. These five gentlemen constitute the executive committee. David Atwood was elected chairman of the Federal committee. All committee members have power to fill the various committees with persons of their own selection.

The following is a copy of the heading of the various lists being signed throughout the city. Cut out the coupon, sign your name and enclose it with two dollars to H. D. Murdock or hand it to one of the officers or membership committee.

NATIONAL SERVICE WELFARE ASSOCIATION.

Executive Committee

President Geo. M. McKey Vice President Thos. E. Welsh Sec. and Treas. H. D. Murdock Arrangements Sidney Bostwick Finance William P. Langdon

Federal Committee

David Atwood.

Organized for the purpose of providing suitable entertainment and escort for men of the Selective Draft who are called into the Federal Service for the duration of the war, both while in the city and enroute to their respective stations. The dues to be two dollars monthly.

This organization plans to aid the Federal Government in investigations of alleged disloyal statements and acts and to do all in their power to secure convictions for such offences.

It is further planned to care for the sick and wounded who may be returned to their home during the period of the war, incapacitated for active duty.

We the undersigned enroll ourselves as members of the National Service Welfare Association and agree to pay the dues prescribed for the duration of the war.

Name _____

JOHN P. CULLEN RECEIVES APPOINTMENT ON BOARD

John P. Cullen, 912 South Bluff street, has been appointed as a member of the Fire and Police commission. Mr. Cullen will take the place of W. S. Jeffers, who declined reappointment on account of ill-health.

Time to paint up—Paints, Oils, Varnishes, Brushes. S. Hutchinson & Sons.

Masonic Notice: Janesville Chapter No. 5 will meet Thursday evening, May 5, at 8 P. M. and M. E. M. degrees.

Will Meet: Regular meeting of Laurel Lodge No. 2, D. of F., tomorrow evening in Caledonia rooms. An-

Gen. Sir Herbert Charles Plumer, General Plumer, who is one of the British generals in command of the Flanders front, has declared that he is confident of an ultimate British victory and that the Allies are sure to hold and the Germans driven back.

Mystery of Woman. A distinguished physician says there is no such thing as a normal woman. We presume that what the doctor means to say is that women are normally abnormal.

Applies for License: Mrs. Olson of Elsie has applied to County Clerk for a license to marry Anna Schneider, also of that city.

Aid Society: The Ladies' Aid society of the First Lutheran church was entertained in the church parlor Thursday afternoon by Mrs. Robert Gesteland.

Circle No. 1: Circle No. 1 of Car. M. E. Church will meet with Mrs. Mission, 233 Madison street, Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Mrs. Falter, president.

PERSONAL MENTION

Dr. and Mrs. N. L. Sage will occupy the residence of Capt. and Mrs. A. P. Burnham at 615 St. Lawrence avenue, after May 8th. Mrs. Sage has just returned to Janesville, after a prolonged visit with her sister in California.

Chas. Sykes has returned home from a business trip in Montana and South Dakota.

Miss Elizabeth Cowles of Washington street, is spending several days the guest of friends in East Troy, Wis.

Ray Horvold, an employee of the Hotel Myers, left yesterday for Camp Grant. He expects to go into the culinary department and management of the hotel presented him with a sweater and socks and the employees gave him a wrist watch.

Mrs. A. R. Anderson of Racine, who has been a guest this week at the F. A. Blackman home on Court street, left yesterday for Oshkosh where she will visit before returning to Milwaukee.

Reverend Father William Mahoney left Monday for Milwaukee for a visit with a brother, who has enlisted and about to leave for the war. He will also visit in Dubuque, Iowa.

He went there to attend the consecration exercises when Monsignor John Neary will be installed as Bishop of Dubuque City, Idaho. Monsignor Neary has been the president of Dubuque college for the past twenty-four years and will be greatly missed by his Dubuque friends.

Mr. and Mrs. James Tifield of North Washington street, have gone to La-Grange Lake to open up their cottage for the summer. They will spend a few days there.

Mrs. James Walsh and Gladys Smith of Lynn street, have gone to Dubuque, Iowa, where they will serve a supper at five o'clock.

The ladies all take their Red Cross work and while listening to the pro-

Mrs. Fred Wilbur of 201 South High street, was hostess this noon to a ladies' luncheon to raise money formerly for the Red Cross. A light lunch was served at the close of the afternoon.

Mrs. Marcus will entertain Circle No. 7 at the church tomorrow afternoons at 2:30. Members and friends are cordially invited. The Red Cross work will be done. Mrs. F. O. Humphrey, president.

The Women's Foreign Missionary Society will give a picnic supper at 6:15 at the C. M. E. church this evening. Each person is asked to bring sandwiches and an extra dish or a dish for one. After the supper a program will be given in charge of Mrs. Miller, subject "The Son of God," "The Son of the African Trail" and "The Mystery Box Questions of March," and "April Friend" will be given. Every body welcome.

The Eastern Star ladies will meet on Thursday afternoon at Masonic Temple. The program will be given at 6:15. The business meeting will be held first. A report of the different conventions held recently will be given by Mrs. Edna Courtney. Miss Neilia Sanborn will read the report of the past year's work which she gave to the district convention at Racine. A paper of the New Conscience will be given by Mrs. Elliot Boardman of Evansville.

The chesses for the afternoon are to be held at 2:30. The business meeting will be held at 3:30. The business meeting will be held at 3:30.

Mr. A. P. Lovejoy, chairman of the Third Liberty Loan Committee in Janesville, today received the following telegram from W. L. Ross, chairman of the Federal Reserve District No. 7:

"Mr. Pierce has just telephoned me the magnificient results which you and your associates have obtained from the patriotic people of Janesville. He states that you are now entitled to a blue star on your Honor Flag. Janesville is one of the few large cities of Wisconsin to attain this honor and on behalf of the Treasury Department wish to express appreciation of the effort made by the Liberty Loan workers of the spirit shown by your people in financing their nation in this time of stress."

In explanation Mr. Lovejoy states that Janesville is entitled to a star on its Honor Flag when it reaches $900,000.00.

The city is still on its way toward the million dollar mark, although results are coming very slowly. Applications taken by the Boy Scouts are only counted when the cash has been paid, so that much of the Scout's work does not show in the totals. The totals to date are $973,290.00. There are in sight or promised enough additional applications to bring the total up to $1,000,000.00, but whether the last $15,000.00 is coming from to make the million is as yet unknown.

It may be necessary to go back and ask some subscribers to increase their subscriptions in order to put Janesville up to the million dollar mark.

Tomorrow four or five more of the Eastern Star are going out into the country districts to seek out applications that were missed in the first trip and to cover some parts of the territory that were not properly covered before.

More salesmen are needed and any one who is able to go is requested to report at headquarters tomorrow morning at 8:30.

The local office announces that the loan has 4,429 subscribers to the Liberty Loan to date, which represents about 35 per cent of the population of the city. This is considered a very excellent record from stand-point of distribution of the loan.

OBITUARY

George A. Warren

George A. Warren was born at Eaton, Pa., Oct. 5, 1841, and passed away at Franklin, Wis., April 22, 1918. He came to Wisconsin in 1855, and was married to Eliza J. Bacon who survives him in 1865. Two children were born to them: Hattie A. and Jennie C., both of whom are dead young. Later they adopted two children: Lillian and T. A. Kittredge of Chicago, and Frederick A. Kittredge of New York City. There are four grandchildren. From the time of their marriage until 1890 they lived in Lima township, since which time they have lived in Elgin.

On August 30, 1894 he enlisted in the 8th Wisconsin Infantry, and served until the close of the war, excepting a while when disabled by a wound in the arm, holding at the time of his discharge a corporal's commission.

He has been a member of the I. O. O. F. organization since 1884, when he joined at Milton, Wis., afterward transferring to Wisconsin Lodge No. 14 at Franklin. At his death he was also a member of the C. A. R. post at Milton. The members of No. 14 had charge of the burial, which was at Milton, by the side of his mother and children. So far as he knew he had no living personal relatives. The bearer of his wife by the name of Baum, George, Ray, Charles, Eugene, Dorr, and Charley. The funeral was held at the home, 419 North Pearl street, this afternoon at two o'clock. Rev. R. G. Pierson of the Baptist church officiating.

Social Events.

The Daughters of Isabella will hold a social evening tonight at W. S. Lewis' hall at eight o'clock. Cards will be enjoyed. These social evenings are held twice a month, on the first and third Wednesdays.

The Efficiency club met this afternoon for work. They are sewing for the boys who are sacrificing their lives for us. The generous aid the women of America are giving is surely helping out.

Division No. 4 of the Congregational church met this afternoon at the Oak Hill cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. Sager would be glad to have any of Margaret's friends who wish to see her, call on Wednesday evening or Thursday morning.

Mariam Homsey.

The funeral of Mariam Homsey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Homsey, was held this morning at nine o'clock from St. Patrick's church. Father Pierce conducted the services. Internment was made in Mt. Olivet cemetery.

Around The State

Deserter Is Caught.

Grand Rapids, Wis.—Harold L. Van Ert, deserter from the marines, was found home too soon. He had been in the service for two years and had evidently become tired of deserting home. The sheriff was notified and watch was kept over his parents' home here until the boy showed up.

He is now in jail awaiting punishment at the hands of a court martial.

Mysterious Explosions.

Eau Claire, Wis., May 1.—Raking indiscriminately in her garden, Mrs. Henry Seig, aged forty, spied a small glittering object. She picked it up and the object exploded, tearing off the thumb and three fingers of her left hand. She is in a hospital here. It was not been determined what caused the explosion.

Thineander, Wis., May 1.—Adolph Schrauer, an enemy, is being held here at the order of the United States marshal's office at Madison. Schrauer is a traveling salesman for a Minneapolis shoe company.

Poultry Dealers in Session in Milwaukee.

Milwaukee, May 1.—Government regulations regarding handling of eggs and poultry under the food laws and edicts of the food administration, were taken up by the Wisconsin Egg and Poultry Dealers Association yesterday. Problems of efficiency in connection with the regulations were discussed.

The Daughters of Isabella of St. Patrick's church met this afternoon for work. They are making clothes for the children of the refugees. They met in the different homes for work, and today they met at the home of Mr. George Kenning on Holmes street. At five o'clock Mrs. Kenning served a tea.

JANESEVILLE WILL HAVE STAR IN HONOR FLAG

A. P. LOVEJOY RECEIVES TELEGRAM FROM WILLIAM ROSS COMPLIMENTING THIS CITY ON WONDERFUL SHOWING.

SCOUTS MEET SUCCESS

Boy Scouts Have Banner Day on Tuesday.—Several Large Subscriptions Have Been Turned in by Young Boys.

Mr. A. P. Lovejoy, chairman of the Third Liberty Loan Committee in Janesville, today received the following telegram from W. L. Ross, chairman of the Federal Reserve District No. 7:

"Mr. Pierce has just telephoned me the magnificient results which you and your associates have obtained from the patriotic people of Janesville. He states that you are now entitled to a blue star on your Honor Flag. Janesville is one of the few large cities of Wisconsin to attain this honor and on behalf of the Treasury Department wish to express appreciation of the effort made by the Liberty Loan workers of the spirit shown by your people in financing their nation in this time of stress."

In explanation Mr. Lovejoy states that Janesville is entitled to a star on its Honor Flag when it reaches $900,000.00.

The city is still on its way toward the million dollar mark, although results are coming very slowly. Applications taken by the Boy Scouts are only counted when the cash has been paid, so that much of the Scout's work does not show in the totals. The totals to date are $973,290.00. There are in sight or promised enough additional applications to bring the total up to $1,000

MAY ELEVENTH IS THE DATE SELECTED

The Annual Meeting of City Federation of Women's Clubs, which takes place at the Congregational church on Saturday, May 11th. This is the big opening of the year when members of all the federated clubs expect to get together to become better acquainted with each other, and get in touch with the work being done by all. The notable event of the meeting will be an address by Miss Abby Marlatt, of Madison, who is a member of the national food administration board. Janeville is fortunate in being able to bring this talented woman, but is unable to do so, because owing to some her health practices in Madison, she is able to make a quick trip here at a week's notice. She has been obliged to turn down engagements from all over the country which require too much of her time, even the national meeting at Hot Springs not being able to secure her services.

Election of officers of the federation, a brief business meeting will also be held, the chairman of the nominating committee being Mrs. H. D. Murdoch.

The meeting will be preceded by a luncheon which will be served by the partners under the direction of a committee with Mrs. E. Capelle as chairman. The hour of the luncheon is fixed at 12:30 and those desiring reservations are requested to notify Mrs. Capelle as soon as possible as the seating capacity of the room is limited. Tickets at 50 cents, which covers simply the cost of the meal, can be secured from the committee or the presidents of the federated clubs.

All members of the federated clubs and the individual members of the city federation are urged to be present at this meeting, as it is the grand event of the year. Those attending the luncheon are invited that all will come in the afternoon to hear Miss Marlatt, the afternoon meeting being held in the Sunday school room.

PLANS PERFECTED FOR THE SESSIONS

Convention of Rock County Sunday School Association To Be Held

Extensive plans have been made for the Annual Convention of the Rock County Sunday School association which is to be held in Janesville at the Methodist church on May 8th and 9th.

The county officers are C. A. Finn, president; L. A. Marckham, secretary; Miss Bowerman, assistant secretary; and H. O. Myers, treasurer. A small force of county divisional secretaries is included in the list which includes the following: Miss Fern Cook, Beloit; Secondary-Girls; Miss Alice Hillister, Beloit; Boys, Dr. Alvin; Girls, Miss Mary Barker, Janesville; Men, Dr. B. Thomas, Clinton; Administrative, Prof. J. H. Blackman, Beloit; Educational, Prof. D. N. Inglis, Milton.

Arrangements have been made by a committee, whose chairman is Mrs. Oberholser, to entertain the delegates who come to the convention. Those desiring hospitality should address her in the matter.

Material for an exhibit should be sent to Mrs. A. S. Kroc, A special luncheon for Sunday school superintendents and workers has been arranged for Wednesday evening in the Methodist church.

Janesville is noted for the efficiency of its Sunday schools and for the splendid way in which it makes the facts of life nature, and doubt the present occasion will be a cracked success and inspiration to all the workers of the year to come.

The following is the program:

Wednesday Afternoon.

Registration, Mrs. Alfred Olson, Devotional, Rev. J. A. Melrose, President's Report, G. A. Finn, Adult Bible Class at Work, Rev. F. J. Turner.

How We Did It, Harry Deischlager, Shall We Organize Our Classes, P. J. Nickel, Sunday Division Superintendent, Wisconsin Sunday School Association.

How Our County Stands, L. A. Marckham, The Measuring Rod, Mr. Rogers, General Secretary, Wisconsin Sunday School Association.

Counting Up, Elementary Group—Leader, Miss Fern Cook; Secondary Group Leader, Mr. Nickel; Adult and Group Leader, Mrs. Thomas Rogers.

Supper in Baptist Church, All the Sunday School superintendents and Sunday School officers should be at Supper, addressed by Dr. Arney, the supper Wednesday Evening.

Prayer and Praise, Rev. J. Peterson, County Secretary's Report, L. A. Marckham.

Report of Nominating Committee—Election, E. Heckox, Working Together, Mr. Rogers, Officer for Organized Sunday School Work.

Address of Acquaintance for Religious Education, Walter Agnew, Superintendent, Camp Grant, President, Fielding College, Almira.

Thursday Morning.

Devotional, Rev. W. Miller, Preaching the Parables, Mrs. Barker, Good Records—Why and How, Mrs. J. S. Taylor.

The Voice of the County, County President, pending.

The Secondary Division Organized for Service, Mr. Nickel.

Adjourn.

Thursday Afternoon.

Devotional, Rev. W. Miller, Monthly Workers' Meeting, The Monthlies.

Prof. D. N. Inglis, Club to EF, Teas, Mr. Nickel, Closing Remarks, The New President.

GREAT INTEREST IS SHOWN IN WILL CASE

Forty Spectators Crowd Circuit Court Chambers to Hear Testimony in Contested Shively Will Case.

Evansville people are showing considerable interest in the outcome of the Joseph Shively contested will case which is being tried in the circuit court before Judge Grimes. Forty spectators crowded the court chambers all day today to hear the testimony of the numerous witnesses who were placed on the stand. Yesterday witnesses for the proponent of the instrument brought forth were George Pfeifer, who left will of Shively after his death, and M. J. Harper, his son, who is a member of the national food administration board.

Shively is fortunate in being able to bring this talented woman, but is unable to do so, because owing to some her health practices in Madison, she is able to make a quick trip here at a week's notice. She has been obliged to turn down engagements from all over the country which require too much of her time, even the national meeting at Hot Springs not being able to secure her services.

Election of officers of the federation, a brief business meeting will also be held, the chairman of the nominating committee being Mrs. H. D. Murdoch.

The meeting will be preceded by a luncheon which will be served by the partners under the direction of a committee with Mrs. E. Capelle as chairman. The hour of the luncheon is fixed at 12:30 and those desiring reservations are requested to notify Mrs. Capelle as soon as possible as the seating capacity of the room is limited. Tickets at 50 cents, which covers simply the cost of the meal, can be secured from the committee or the presidents of the federated clubs.

Today the contestants' witnesses were examined, and attorneys for the contestants attempted to show by the testimony given that Joseph Shively was incompetent in his business affairs and therefore unable to make a will. They testified that the deceased was a heavy drinker and that he kept liquor in his house. E. J. Hynes testified that after the death of Joseph Shively he had the farm equipment running down, which he attributed to the poor business ability of the deceased. The proponent's attorneys, G. E. Oestreich and T. S. Nolan, sought by cross-examination to show that the testimony of these witnesses was incompetent. There were numerous objections on both sides.

It is expected that testimony in the case will be completed tomorrow.

MOVING MAN RULES IN JANESEVILLE TODAY

First of May Finds Several Local People Changing Their Place of Abode—Weather Favours Moves.

In the spring, and particularly the first of May, a person's fancy lightly turns to many thoughts, including moving.

Today is the first of May and many vans could be seen on the streets during the day, laden with furniture. Many people in this city are moving at the present time, according to the weather, and are not too plump. The complications of this day are the reputation of being somewhat cheerless in character, but the consensus of opinion among the people who are regular movers is that no outdoor or indoor sport has the ability to produce such resignation of character or general uplift.

In case it rained today life it did yesterday it would be a wonderful case of restraint to pack your furniture and have the moving van call for it and then carry some of the more valuable articles and start for your new residence, only to find after arriving that the tenant who is moving out has decided to wait a few days till the weather warms up.

DAIRY COMPANY WILL FILE ANSWER MAY 3

Date for Trial Against the Kee and Chappel Company Will Be Set at That Time—Two Men Eined in Court.

Because of the inability of S. S. Chappel, of the firm of Kee and Chappel Dairy company of Chicago, to appear in the municipal court this morning, the case of Frank H. Maxwell and A. M. Hartwick, producers of cheese against that firm was set for Friday, top o'clock. At that time John L. Fisher, attorney for Kee and Chappel, will file an answer to the charges and the date for the trial will be set.

Mr. Chappel was called to Washington to confer with Herbert Hoover, head of the food administration, on the food situation in this country. The call came unexpectedly and as a result the case, which was set for this morning in the municipal court, was set aside by Judge Maxfield. Attorney Stanley Tallman, appearing for the plaintiffs, agreed to the change in the date due to the reason for Chappel's call to Washington.

Coal Thieves Fined.

Ervin C. Wilhite and William Goightly, of Afton, were fined fifteen dollars and costs in the municipal court this morning by Judge Maxfield for stealing three thousand pounds of coal, valued at $1.50, from the coal car of the Milwaukee and Northwestern railroad at Afton. The men got on the coal cars as the train was passing through Afton and threw the coal onto the ground.

MEMORY MAKING.

When I come to Way off Yonder, where the graybeards sit and ponder,

When I pass the hills of labor and reach the Vale of Rest,

When the glee of life is so strong, free from shame and vain regretting,

Whether good or ill beset me I would say I've done my best,

As I run my story over, when life's frost has killed the clover,

And I'm waiting for the sunbeams that shall fall right up above,

All the memories of the past, I am longing will be pleasant.

Then I want no fame or fortune that I am unworthy of.

All the joys that I'll remember in my heart and brief December,

As my bit of life is fading and the frost is on my brow,

Are they gone? Is life pursuing, and the tasks that I am doing?

In the June time of my labor, I am making memories now.

Be it ill or be it splendid, when my time for toll is ended,

And I'm sitting in the corner and the children round me play,

Not with shame would be burning, as life's pages I am turning,

But in pride I would remember every deed I do today.

Age can never change life's writing;

If today the scroll I'm blighting

Bitter memory will taunt me in the dim and distant years.

Today I stoop for sowing, falsely deaf for selfish winning,

I shall spend my soul in sorrow

At the record reaping,

It is now a shape tomorrow, now through gladness and through sorrow.

I am stamping, past erasure, on the tablets of my mind,

All that I shall see off Yonder, where the graybeards sit and ponder,

And I pray that I shall never be ashamed to look behind.

Fails to Register: Held.

Grand Rapids, Wis., May.—Leonard Kruger of the town of Wood, who failed to register last June, was arrested here Monday by Sheriff Norton and is being held in jail on the federal authority and instructions as to his release along with him, Henry Lipitz of Saratoga, another slacker who failed to turn in his questionnaire, was arrested last week and permitted to leave Friday with the national army contingent.

VERY DISCOURAGING.

Harold, I am afraid May's love for me is fading.

George Why?

Harold, in her letter today she only uses the word love ten times and only underlines it eight.

News Notes from Movieland

BY DAISY DEAN

A slender, vivacious little daughter of the south is Margery Wilson, the young actress who has recently been advanced to stardom in the Triangle features. She started her education in the public schools of Kentucky, her native state, and later attended a seminary where her mother was an instructor. Here she received excellent training in voice and expression and acquired the essentials of dramatic art.

Like many of the best motion picture actresses, Miss Wilson started her career behind the curtain. At the age of fourteen, she acted on the boards for the first time and then for several years she played in various stock companies and in vaudeville.

Her entrance into movieland was sudden and unexpected. While taking a vacation in California, she was engaged by a picture company to act in a production of "Goodbye". During the shooting of this film, she met Douglas Fairbanks in "Double Trouble" and with William S. Hart in "The Return of Draw Tarzan".

Margery Wilson claims that the proudest moment of her life was not when she played with either of these stars (think of that, girls!) nor was it when she first behold herself on the screen, but it was upon the publication of her first poem when she was but nine years old.

CHAPLIN NOT DRAFTED

Latest reports have it that Charlie Chaplin will not be drafted, at least at once. Chaplin, who was due to leave in June, has been moved to Pittsburgh, Pa., where he will be considered until before the coming of the call for service. Chaplin is placed in this division as the result of the action of the board, following reports of the British government that Chaplin is physically unfit for military service.

RODOLPHO NOT DRAFTED

Rodolpho, the Italian, is not to be drafted, according to the latest news. He is to remain in the United States, as he is not yet of age.

He is to remain in the United States, as he is not yet of age.

He is to remain in the United States, as he is not yet of age.

He is to remain in the United States, as he is not yet of age.

He is to remain in the United States, as he is not yet of age.

He is to remain in the United States, as he is not yet of age.

He is to remain in the United States, as he is not yet of age.

He is to remain in the United States, as he is not yet of age.

He is to remain in the United States, as he is not yet of age.

He is to remain in the United States, as he is not yet of age.

He is to remain in the United States, as he is not yet of age.

He is to remain in the United States, as he is not yet of age.

He is to remain in the United States, as he is not yet of age.

He is to remain in the United States, as he is not yet of age.

He is to remain in the United States, as he is not yet of age.

He is to remain in the United States, as he is not yet of age.

He is to remain in the United States, as he is not yet of age.

He is to remain in the United States, as he is not yet of age.

He is to remain in the United States, as he is not yet of age.

He is to remain in the United States, as he is not yet of age.

He is to remain in the United States, as he is not yet of age.

He is to remain in the United States, as he is not yet of age.

He is to remain in the United States, as he is not yet of age.

He is to remain in the United States, as he is not yet of age.

He is to remain in the United States, as he is not yet of age.

He is to remain in the United States, as he is not yet of age.

He is to remain in the United States, as he is not yet of age.

He is to remain in the United States, as he is not yet of age.

He is to remain in the United States, as he is not yet of age.

He is to remain in the United States, as he is not yet of age.

He is to remain in the United States, as he is not yet of age.

He is to remain in the United States, as he is not yet of age.

PETEY DINK—LET PETEY WORRY.

RAINBOW'S END

A NOVEL

By IRIN BREACHE

Illustrated by M. L. "The Spillberg" H. G. Smith, artist.

Courtesy of Author and Brothers

Supper, a simple meal, was quickly disposed of. Then followed a long, dispiriting wait, for a gibbons moon rode high in the sky and the guides refused to stir so long as it remained there. It was a still night; in the jungle no air was stirring, and darkness brought forth a torment of mosquitoes. As day died the woods awoke to sounds of bird and insect life; strange, raucous calls pealed forth, some familiar, others strange and unaccustomed. Sitting there in the dark, bedeviled by a pest of insects, mocked at by those mysterious voices, and looking forward to a hazardous enterprise, O'Reilly began to curse his wild imagination and to envy the impatience of his companions. Even jacket, he noted, endured the strain better; the boy was cheerful, philosophical, quite unperturbed by his surroundings. When the mosquitoes became unbearable he put on his trousers, with some reluctance and much difficulty.

Midnight brought a moist, warm breeze and a few harmless insects, which seemed at times to dimly obscure the moon. Watching the clouds, O'Reilly hoped that they might prove to be the heralds of a storm. None came. When the moon had finally crept down into the tree-tops old Hilario stopped upon his cigarette, then began silently to saddle up. The others followed with alacrity, and fell in behind him as he led the way into the forest.

When they had covered a couple of miles Hilario reined in and the others crowded close. Ahead, dimly discernible against the night sky, there appeared to be a thinnning of the woods. After listening for a moment or two, Hilario dismounted and slipped away; the three riders sat their saddles with ears strained.

Hilario returned with word that all was well, and each man dismounted to rub the feet of his horse with rags and strips of gunny-sea provided for the purpose. Then, one by one, they moved forward to the edge of the clearing. The trocha lay before them, having silently to saddle up. The others followed with alacrity, and fell in behind him as he led the way into the forest.

O'Reilly joined in the laughter evoked by this remark. He was quite as lettered as the poorest of Berancourt's common soldiers; his shoes were broken and disreputable; his cotton trousers, snagged by barbed wire and brambles, and soiled by days in the saddle and nights in the grass, were in desperate need of attention.

His head had grown, too, and his skin, where it was exposed, was burnt to a mahogany brown. Certainly there was nothing about his appearance to bespeak his nationality.

The general continued: "I am directed in this letter to help you in some enterprise. Command me sir."

As briefly as possible O'Reilly made known the object of his journey. The officer nodded his comprehension, but as he did so a puzzled expression crossed his face.

"So! They are shooting bats!" Hilario grunted.

Antonio swung about and cocked his Remington, but the other spoke sharply.

"Puff! If you shoot them will see the fire and riddle us. A curse on the spider that spun this web!"

It was a test of courage to crouch among the charred stumps, enmeshed in that cruel tangle of wire, while the night was stalked by daggers of fire and while the trocha awoke to the wild alarm. From somewhere in the distance came a shouted command and the sound of running feet, suddenly putting an end to further function. Antonio began to back viciously with his machete, in an effort to aid Hilario's labors. The sound of his sturdy blows betrayed the party's whereabouts so clearly that finally the older man could restrain himself no longer.

"Give it to them, compadres; it is game that we can play!"

O'Reilly had been gripping his rifle tensely, his heart in his throat, his pulses pounding. As near a panic as he had ever been, he found, oddly enough, that the mere act of throwing his weapon to his shoulder and firing it calmed him. The kick of the gun subdued his excitement and cleared his brain. He surprised himself by directing jacket in a cool, authoritative voice, to shoot low. When he had captured the magazinie he led two of the horses forward. Then, grasping his own machete, he joined in clearing a path through the tangled wire.

General Betancourt drew back, astonished. "My dear man!" he exclaimed. "Are you mad?"

O'Reilly smiled faintly. "Quite probably. All lovers are mildly mad, believe."

"Ah! Lovers! I begin to see. But how do you mean to go about this—this—impossible undertaking?"

"You told me just now that I could pass for a Cuban. Well, I am going to put it to the test. If I once get into the city I shall manage somehow to get out again, and bring her with me."

"C'm—" The general appraised O'Reilly speculatively. "No doubt you can get in—it is not so difficult to enter, I believe, and especially to one who speaks the language like a native. But the return—I fear you will find that another matter. Matanzas is a place of pestilence, hunger, despair. No one goes there from choice any more, and no one ever comes out."

"So I should imagine." The speaker's careless tone added to General Betancourt's astonishment. "Bless me!" he exclaimed. "What an extraordinary young man! Is it possible that you do not comprehend the terrible conditions?" A sudden thought struck him and he inquired quickly: "Tell me, you are not by any chance that hero they call El Demonio? I have heard that he is indeed a demon. No? Very well! You say you wish to visit Matanzas, and I am instructed to help you. How can I do so?"

(TO BE CONTINUED.)

It seemed an interminable time ere they had extricated themselves from the trap, but finally they succeeded and gained the welcome shelter of the woods, pausing inside its shelter to cut the muzzles from their horses' feet. By this time the defenders of the trocha were pouring volley after volley at random into the night.

Now that the skirmish was over, jacket began to boast of his part in it. "Ha! Perhaps they'll know better than to show themselves the next time I come this way," said he. "You saw me, didn't you? Well, I made a few Spanish wifoes tonight."

When no one disputed his assertion jacket proceeded further in praise of himself, only to break off with a wordless cry of dismay.

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets . . . are all-around Substitute

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. They are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel. His efforts to banish it brought out these little olive-colored tablets.

The pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does, but have no bad side effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. Sodastone liquids, it is best not to take calomel, but to let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

Most headaches, "dullness" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "lumpy" and "heavy." Note how they "clear" cloudy brain and how they "perk-up" the spirits.

10c and 25c a box. All druggists the animals made a tremendous racket, or so it seemed, and, despite Hilario's twisting and turnings, it was impossible to avoid an occasional loop of barbed wire, therefore flesh and clothing suffered grievously. But at length the party brought up under the railroad embankment and paused. As carefully as might be the four men ascended the slope, crossed the rails and descended into the ditch on the other side. Another moment and they encountered a taut strand of barbed wire. The metallic snap of Hilario's shears sounded like a pistol shot to O'Reilly. Into the maze of strands they penetrated, yard by yard, clipping and carefully laying

"What's the matter?" Johnnie inquired.

"Look! Behold me!" wailed the hero. "I have left the half of my beautiful trousers on that barbed wire!"

Antonio swung a leg over his saddle, saying: "Come along, amigos; we have fifty leagues ahead of us. The war will be over while we stand here gossing."

O'Reilly's adventures on his swift ride through Las Villas have no part in this story. It is only necessary to say that they were numerous and varied, that O'Reilly experienced excitement aplenty, and that upon more than one occasion he was forced to think and to act quickly in order to avoid a clash with some roving guerrilla band.

Food became a problem immediately after the travelers had crossed the trocha. Such apprehensive families as still lurked in the woods were liberal enough—Antonio, by the way, knew all of them—but they had little to give, and, in consequence, O'Reilly's party learned the taste of wild fruits, berries and palmetto hearts. Once they managed to kill a small pig, the sole survivor of some obscure country tragedy, but the rest of the time their meat, when there was any, consisted of iguanas—those big, repulsive lizards—and jitas, the Cuban field rats.

Fortunately there was no shortage of food for the horses, and so, despite the necessity of numerous detours, the party made good time. They crossed into Matanzas, pushed on over rolling hills, through sweeping savannas, past empty clearings and deserted villages, to their journey's end. A fortunate encounter with a rebel party from General Betancourt's army enabled them to reach headquarters without loss of time, and one afternoon, worn, haggard and hungry, they dismounted in front of that gallant officer's hut.

General Betancourt read the letter which O'Reilly handed him, then looked up with a smile.

"So! You are one of Gomez' Americans, eh? Well, I would never have known it, to look at you; the sun and the wind have made you into a very good Cuban. And your clothes—One night almost mistake you for a Cuban cabinet officer."

O'Reilly joined in the laughter evoked by this remark. He was quite as lettered as the poorest of Berancourt's common soldiers; his shoes were broken and disreputable; his cotton trousers, snagged by barbed wire and brambles, and soiled by days in the saddle and nights in the grass, were in desperate need of attention.

His head had grown, too, and his skin, where it was exposed, was burnt to a mahogany brown. Certainly there was nothing about his appearance to bespeak his nationality.

The older Swift, founder of one of the great Chicago beef concerns, hated to see women working in bright clothes, according to a man who once labored for the Swift concern. There happened to be a stenographer in the works, however, who, despite all the loud raincoat she could don, looked like a combination of a merri-go-round and a rainbow when she walked through the yards.

One day the elder Swift caught sight of her. He called to his assistant.

"Who is that?" he asked.

"It's my daughter, do you?"

"Yes, sir," faltered the young man.

"Just wait a minute," returned the practical parent. "How are your finances? Are you in a position to support a family?"

"I don't know, sir," answered the youth, thoughtfully. "How many are there of you?"

matrimonial candidate. "So you want to marry my daughter, do you?"

"Yes, sir," faltered the young man.

"If you have no objections—"

"Just wait a minute," returned the practical parent. "How are your finances? Are you in a position to support a family?"

"I don't know, sir," he said, "deck her again."

"What are you drawing, your excellency?" asked the tutor.

"This is a picture of God."

"But that is verboten; nobody knows what God looks like."

"They will when I get done."

"Not the least, sir."

"Then—why have you come all this way?"

"I came to find her and to fetch her to her brother."

"But—you don't understand. She is actually inside the lines in Matanzas—a prisoner."

"Exactly. I intend to go into Matanzas and bring her out."

General Betancourt drew back, astonished. "My dear man!" he exclaimed. "Are you mad?"

O'Reilly smiled faintly. "Quite probably. All lovers are mildly mad, believe."

"Ah! Lovers! I begin to see. But how do you mean to go about this—this—impossible undertaking?"

"You told me just now that I could pass for a Cuban. Well, I am going to put it to the test. If I once get into the city I shall manage somehow to get out again, and bring her with me."

"C'm—" The general appraised O'Reilly speculatively. "No doubt you can get in—it is not so difficult to enter, I believe, and especially to one who speaks the language like a native. But the return—I fear you will find that another matter. Matanzas is a place of pestilence, hunger, despair. No one goes there from choice any more, and no one ever comes out."

"So I should imagine." The speaker's careless tone added to General Betancourt's astonishment.

"Bless me!" he exclaimed. "What an extraordinary young man! Is it possible that you do not comprehend the terrible conditions?" A sudden thought struck him and he inquired quickly:

"Tell me, you are not by any chance that hero they call El Demonio? I have heard that he is indeed a demon. No? Very well! You say you wish to visit Matanzas, and I am instructed to help you. How can I do so?"

(TO BE CONTINUED.)

It seemed an interminable time ere they had extricated themselves from the trap, but finally they succeeded and gained the welcome shelter of the woods, pausing inside its shelter to cut the muzzles from their horses' feet. By this time the defenders of the trocha were pouring volley after volley at random into the night.

Now that the skirmish was over, jacket began to boast of his part in it.

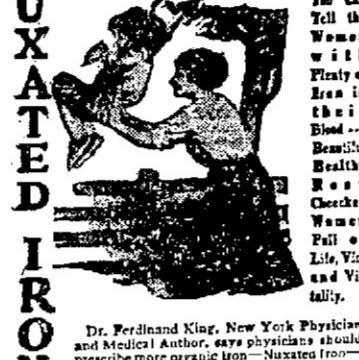

"Ha! Perhaps they'll know better than to show themselves the next time I come this way," said he.

"You saw me, didn't you? Well, I made a few Spanish wifoes tonight."

When no one disputed his assertion jacket proceeded further in praise of himself, only to break off with a wordless cry of dismay.

Read the classified ads.

NUXATED IRON

Dr. Ferdinand King, New York Physician and Medical Author, says physicians should prescribe more organic iron—Nuxated Iron—for their patients. Nuxated Iron is a specific remedy for the treatment of rheumatism, neuralgia, sciatica, etc., and induces the tonic action of nux vomica.

It is a most delightful organ recital was given in the S. D. B. church last Thursday evening by the Milton College Glee Club, who sang several selections.

The combination of organ music with songs by the glee club produced a varied program which was keenly enjoyed by the large audience of nearly four hundred people. Mr. Daland is a brother of President Duland. He is an accomplished musician in many fields, but especially fond of organ music. He has charge of church music in Brooklyn, Washington, and Philadelphia. He has also fulfilled the high expectations of his hearers by the clarity of his playing and the masterly way in which he handles the organ.

Circle No. 10 of the S. D. B. church gave a farewell party to Prof. L. H. Miller, president of the college faculty.

Mr. A. H. Smart of Lakota, North Dakota, is visiting Milton relatives and friends. He is writing Milton relatives and friends. Mr. A. H. Smart of Lakota, North Dakota, is visiting Milton relatives and friends. He is writing Milton relatives and friends.

Mr. A. H. Smart of Lakota, North Dakota, is visiting Milton relatives and friends. He is writing Milton relatives and friends.

Mr. A. H. Smart of Lakota, North Dakota, is visiting Milton relatives and friends.

Mr. A. H. Smart of Lakota, North Dakota, is visiting Milton relatives and friends.

Mr. A. H. Smart of Lakota, North Dakota, is visiting Milton relatives and friends.

Mr. A. H. Smart of Lakota, North Dakota, is visiting Milton relatives and friends.

Mr. A. H. Smart of Lakota, North Dakota, is visiting Milton relatives and friends.

Mr. A. H. Smart of Lakota, North Dakota, is visiting Milton relatives and friends.

Mr. A. H. Smart of Lakota, North Dakota, is visiting Milton relatives and friends.

Mr. A. H. Smart of Lakota, North Dakota, is visiting Milton relatives and friends.

Mr. A. H. Smart of Lakota, North Dakota, is visiting Milton relatives and friends.

Mr. A. H. Smart of Lakota, North Dakota, is visiting Milton relatives and friends.

Mr. A. H. Smart of Lakota, North Dakota, is visiting Milton relatives and friends.

Mr. A. H. Smart of Lakota, North Dakota, is visiting Milton relatives and friends.

Mr. A. H. Smart of Lakota, North Dakota, is visiting Milton relatives and friends.

Mr. A. H. Smart of Lakota, North Dakota, is visiting Milton relatives and friends.

JANESEVILLE GAZETTE
Classified Advertising

CLASSIFIED RATES
1 insertion 5c per line
2 insertions 5c per line
3 insertions 5c per line
(Five words to a line, charge of copy)
Monthly Ads. 5c per line per month.
$125 per line per month.

NO AD TAKEN LESS THAN 25¢ OR LESS THAN 2 LINES.

CONTRACT RATES furnished on application to the Gazette office.

CLOSING HOURS. All Want Ads must be in before 12 noon of day of publication.

TOWN ADS must be accompanied with cash in full payment for COUNT the words carefully and print in accordance with above rates.

The Gazette reserves the right to reject any ad according to its own rules and regulations.

PHONE YOUR WANT ADS to us. It is our pleasure to do so but it must be mailed to you and as it is an accommodation service the rate expects payment promptly on part of bill.

Names do not appear in the City Directory or Telephone Directory must send cash with advertisements.

BOTH PHONES 77

SPECIAL NOTICES

ALWAYS When you think of ? ? ? think of C. P. Beers.

LAWYERS HONED—25c. Prentiss Bros.

LOST AND FOUND

KEYBOOK lost containing $5.40 receipts with name. Small black pocketbook. Finder call Bell phone 340. Reward.

FEMALE HELP WANTED

For general housework. Apply at 323 Prospect Ave. Bell phone 340.

WOMAN for housework. Address "Country," care Gazette.

Wife to help with general house work. Also able to cook. One can go home nights. Good opportunity for night party. Address "Country," care Gazette.

MAID—Apply at once. Experienced. Apollo Cafe.

LADY COOK—Apply at once. Experienced. Apollo Cafe.

LADY TYPIST—Neat; accurate; knowledge of stenography not necessary. Apply PARKER PEN.

SIX GIRLS—Over 14 preferred. Good pay and steady work. Apply Franklyn St. plant, 219 N. Franklin St., Rock River Woolen Mills.

STENOGRAPHER AND OFFICE GIRL

One with experience preferred, good position and good salary to right person. State experience. Address "Office" care of Gazette.

THREE GIRLS

for general work and stitching. Clean, light work. Steady employment.

LEWIS KNITTING CO.

2 GIRLS—Over 14 years of age. Hough Shade Corporation.

WANTRESES—Two experienced waitresses. Good wages. Apply at Royal Cafe, 13 N. Main St.

WOMAN—Strong middle aged woman wants work, part or whole day. Address "Womans" care Gazette.

GIRLS—Between 16 and 17 years, no permits for long leaders. Hough Shade Corporation.

MALE HELP WANTED

at once. Hanson Bros.

BOY—Apply at once. Grand
Bros.

BOY over 17 years. Apply at once. Hanson & Lane Co.

BOY to work in stock room. 14 years of age. Ingenious. Apply at once. Bell
Bros.

LEWIS KNITTING CO.

BOY to work. Ingenious. Apply at once. Bell
Bros.

MAINTENANCE MAN to work on stoves. Apply at once. Kresser, Milw. City.

MECHANIC—Good chance of permanent. Townsend
Mfg. Co.

MIN. Three good men. Prentiss Bros.

Both phones.

THREE MEN—To learn rubber turning. Experience unnecessary. Steady work. Good starting wages. Parker Pen Co.

TEAMSTER—Apply at once. Call
Bell phone 335.

MALE HELP WANTED
(Continued).FLOUR AND FEED
(Continued).

FEEDS—Call and examine our feeds for horses, cattle, hogs and poultry. Our quality and prices will please you. Doty's Mill, Foot Dodge St. Both phones.

HAY, grain, mids, oats, etc. All kinds of feed. Bower City Feed Co., 120 Park St. Both phones.

HAY FOR SALE

Call at F. H. Quinn Lumber Office.

NITRATE OF SODA

for your tobacco plants will give them a quick start. Buy now if you expect to use 10c per lb., $8.50 per 100 lbs. lots.

Seed of all kinds; quality and price right. Early and late onions, onions sets and onion garden seed.

Poultry foods of all kinds. Use calf meal to grow your calves and sell the milk at high prices.

Use more oil meal for your stock, today. The cheapest feed on the market.

Flint corn, ensilage, yellow and white corn, corn and sweet corn.

Carrots, cane and millet seed in and Marsh hay for tobacco beds.

Part car Standard Midds in Monday.

Call phone or write.

F. H. GREEN & SON

N. Main St.

25 EBBS. SALT this week. Fill up while you can. S. M. Jacobs & Son, at the Rink.

ROOMS FOR RENT

JACKSON ST., N. 11—Large furnished east front room with small front room connected.

TERRACE ST., N. 413—One furnished room. Bell phone 562.

LIGHT HOUSEKEEPING ROOMS

JACKLIN ST., S. 204—3 furnished light housekeeping rooms with heat and bath. Bell phone 2079.

FRANKLIN ST., S. 209—Furnished rooms. R. C. phone Black 307.

LOCUST ST., 110—Light housekeeping rooms. Call Bell phone 1673.

ROOMS—4 modern unfurnished rooms. Bell phone 1247.

LIVESTOCK AND VEHICLES

ELKHORN MARE for sale. Weight about 1,100 lbs. Cheap if taken at once. R. C. phone 830 Black.

HUG BEATING and house cleaning. R. C. phone 644.

SHEARS SHARPENED—Saws filed. From Bros.

SHEETS METAL AND COPPER

WORK—E. H. Felton, 17 Court St., will do expert work for you. Roofing, gutters, repairing.

TEAMING—By day or hour. Ashes and refuse removed. C. A. La Sure, Bell phone 2053.

TIN AND FURNACE WORK of all kinds. Expert workmen. Talk to Lowell, 109 W. Milwaukee St. Both phones.

PAINTS AND VARNISHES

PAINTS—Save money by buying paint and Chi-Namel at Janesville House-Wrecking Co., 56 S. River St.

PAINTING AND DECORATING

PAINTS—Save money by buying paint and Chi-Namel at Janesville House-Wrecking Co., 56 S. River St.

PAINTS & VARNISHES

Now is the time to paint up and clean up. We carry a complete line of paints, oils, varnishes, etc.

FRANK DOUGLAS

Practical hardware. 15-17 S. River St.

LAPEER HANGING

First class work guaranteed. Paul Davenport, Both phones.

GARDEN TOOLS

Economize and raise your own garden stuff. We carry a complete line of all tools necessary for garden work.

FRANK DOUGLAS

Dealer in Hardware and Stoves. 15-17 S. River St.

MANURE SPREADERS

New stock, prices right. Five year written guarantee with each spreader. H. P. Hartlow & Co., Tiffany, Wis.

USED PIANO

Another good upright piano will be for sale or rent tomorrow. If you want it come quick. H. F. Nott, 312 W. Milwaukee St.

MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS

USED PIANO—Another good upright piano will be for sale or rent tomorrow. If you want it come quick. H. F. Nott, 312 W. Milwaukee St.

MISCELLANEOUS WANTED

OUTSIDE TOILET—Must be in good condition. R. C. phone 1027 Black.

MACHINERY AND TOOLS

One good used garden tool. We carry a complete line of all tools necessary for garden work.

TRANSPORTATION

STOVE—For sale, one four burner gas stove. Call Bell phone 1046 after 6 p. m.

TYPEWRITER

Monarch typewriter, Underwood No. 4 $45. Wemple, 17 S. Main St.

PAINTS

Now is the time to paint up and clean up. We carry a complete line of paints, oils, varnishes, etc.

FRANK DOUGLAS

Practical hardware. 15-17 S. River St.

PAINTER HANGING

First class work guaranteed. John Hamel & Co., 23 N. Main St.

REPAIRING

AUTO REPAIRING—Windmill repairing, pumps repaired. G. Dusik, Globe Works, 320 N. Main St.

INSURANCE

BEST LIFE INSURANCE—Northwestern Mutual, F. A. Blachman, Agent, Jackman Block, Both phones.

AUTOMOBILES FOR SALE

CASE—Five passenger Case touring car; electrically equipped; tires, cushions, etc. in good condition. Price reasonable. Inquire Roessing Bros.

FORD ROADSTER

1916 model. A bargain. R. C. phone Red 142.

NITSCHER IMPLEMENT CO.

26 N. Bluff St.

HOUSING GOODS

BED ROOM set for sale, 28 Milton Ave. Inquire Neuses, Hotel Planters.

COUCH

for sale. Black walnut couch, two walnut chairs, Domestic sewing machine in good order, oak commode, pictures, 90 fruit jars. Call 324 Caroline St.

SPECIALS AT THE SHOPS

COFFEE—Famous Opeko brand at 1c each piece, while it lasts. Limited quantity, 1 lb. 38c, 2 lbs. 50c. Smith's Pharmacy.

FLEO LIST

Floral designs our specialty. Chas. Rathjen, W. Milw. St.

PLANTS AND SEEDS

DRUIT TREES AND PLANTS Apple trees, 5 to 7 feet, 30c each. Best hardy variety early Richmon.

CORN

Hardy variety early Richmon.

TOMATOES

Strawberry, 75c per hundred.

ASPARAGUS

50c per hundred.

RASPBERRIES

$2.00 per hundred.

CURRANTS

Gooseberries and Grapes, $2.00 dozen.

FLOWERING SHRUBS and climbing vines, 5c each.

HARDY ROSES

extra size, 50c each.

CARPENTER

Call for illustrated catalog.

KELLOGG'S NURSERY

Bell phone 298.

NURSERY PLANTS

Thousands of satisfied customers represent our best advertisement. For highest grade stock, write C. Converse & Edwards, Ft. Atkinson, Wisconsin.

POTATOES

for sale. Early six weeks, 5c per bushel. W. A. Harvey, R. C. phone 710.

SEED CORN

for sale. Pride of North. Mike Schmitz, Edgerton, or Frank Avers, Janesville, Wis.

SEED POTATOES

for sale, choice early seed potatoes. L. A. Crosby, R. C. phone 5556 G.

<div data

More of Count Lichnowsky's Amazing Revelations

In extracts from the memorandum he has written which have previously been published below the former German ambassador to Great Britain has told how he attempted to avert the war with the help of Sir Edward Grey of England and how, after his return to Berlin, he tried to bring about peace through the Lokumans.

On his return to Germany he was disappointed because he had reported things as they were, not as Berlin wished to hear them. He now avails himself of charges to the effect that the memorandum which he prepared for circulation among his friends, fell into the hands of publishers and was printed in European newspapers.

The excerpt: "In 1903 a secret treaty had been signed by Count Hartfeld (then German ambassador in London) and Mr. Hartmann which decided the Portuguese colonies in Africa into economic political spheres of interest between us and England. As the Portuguese government possessed neither the means nor the desire to extend its extensive possessions, the Portuguese government had already thought of selling these possessions. Between us and England an agreement had been reached which declined the interests of the two parties and which was of all the greatest value because Portugal, as is well known, is completely dependent upon England."

This treaty did not conflict with the old Anglo-Portuguese alliance, dating from the fifteenth century, which guaranteed the territories of the two parties.

Nevertheless, at the instance of Marquis Souza, who presumably was not in agreement with the Anglo-German agreement, a new treaty—the so-called Winship treaty—which confirmed the old agreements, was concluded in 1905 between England and Portugal.

The object of the negotiations between us and England, which had begun before the outbreak of the war, was to offer the new treaty to Portugal which agreed with our wishes and interests.

At Angora, as far as the 29th degree of longitude, was allotted to us, so that we reached the Congo territory.

HAS NO CLAIM TO DISPUTED TERRITORY

Germany's Claim to Alsace-Lorraine
Is A Fraud in the Light of History

Germany's claim that in taking Alsace-Lorraine in 1870 she was merely recovering land that had once belonged to her is a fraud. She holds those provinces only by the right of conquest and her historical claims are without foundation.

See making such a statement of facts as follows: The University of Wisconsin has made a thorough investigation of the historical facts bearing Germany's possession of Alsace-Lorraine and presents the following findings:

"Germany seized Alsace-Lorraine after the war of 1870, the war in which the world supposed France had been the aggressor, but many years later when Germany confessed that she brought it on by falsifying the celebrated Ems despatch, Germany boasts Alsace and Lorraine by the right of conquest and that right alone.

The historical claim is utterly without foundation. Alsace and Lorraine never belonged to Germany because Germany herself did not exist till long after they had become French."

"Five by piece the two provinces were added to the French nation from 1552 on. Up to that time the Holy Roman Empire exercised a sort of sovereignty over this land as it did over Holland, Belgium, and Switzerland, but the sovereignty was more or less nominal and was by no means what we know as possession.

"The Holy Roman Empire practically ceased to exist during the seventeenth century and was virtually extinct until it died absolutely in 1806."

"In 1870, after Alsace and Lorraine had been won by the sword of Prussia and her allies, Bismarck created the present German Empire, and with infinite contempt announced that he was the successor to the old Empire."

"But the old Empire was an Austrian Empire, for from 1493 to the end of 1806, all emperors with only two exceptions, from the Hapsburgs, Austrian historians were unquestionably justified in their declaration that the Hapsburg Empire had not the right to claim to the possessions of the old Roman Empire."

"When Emperor Karl of Austria sent in the mysterious letter to Sixtus of Bourges, given to the world the other day by the Germans, he would suppose France's just claims regarding Alsace-Lorraine, we may suppose, that there was some resentment lurking in his mind at the manner in which Bismarck had calumniated Austria into oblivion and made William I successor to the dominions of the Holy Roman Empire."

"Not only Austria but Germany too, knew that their claim to Alsace-Lorraine is a fraud. Maximilian, declared as much only a short time ago: 'What the chancellor said about the history of Alsace-Lorraine is not true... The German Empire had nothing in common with ours.'

"Germany is today before our very eyes dividing Flanders and Belgium. If she wins this war she will take Flanders Bel- gium on the ground that it belonged to the Empire which died long before she was born. She has just as much right to Holland, Belgium, Switzerland and a large part of Italy as she had to Alsace and Lorraine in 1870."

52 STUDENTS FROM BADGER CITIES ARE HIGH SCHOLASTIC HONOR

Madison, Wis.—Thirty-two students from Wisconsin cities were among the 42 new members taken into the honorary scholastic society Phi Beta Kappa, at its annual election at the University of Wisconsin. High scholarship is the basis of election to this society, which is a national one with chapters in many leading colleges and universities. The students elected are those who have tested their class in all college work throughout their course. The number elected this year at the University of

POSTAL ZONE LAW IN THIS COUNTRY TO BE EFFECTIVE ON JULY 1

[BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS]

New York, April 30.—Publishers of newspapers, periodicals, and men prominent in the business and political world are rapidly aligning themselves against the new postal zone law, which is scheduled to become effective July 1.

The concensus of opinion is that the law, should it become effective, would curtail education and information just as the time this country is passing through a new epoch-making period and when the public should, above all other times, be enlightened and kept in close touch with international affairs as well as with the conditions at home.

A resolution was adopted unanimously by the American Newspaper Publishers' Association while in convention in New York City condemning the law as unfair and oppressive to the newspapers of the country.

After the subject had been given to both by telegram and letter to every senator and representative in Washington. It follows:

"Whereas, the postal provisions of Section 110 of the Act of Congress approved October 3, 1917, and which took place in Berlin under the presidency of the Imperial Chancellor (Herr von Bethmann Hollweg), in which I took part, and at which special wishes of question belonged to our sphere of interest.

The treaty was practically completed

at the time of the King's visit to Berlin in May, 1913.

A convention then

took place in Berlin under the presidency of the Imperial Chancellor (Herr von Bethmann Hollweg), in which I

took part, and at which special wishes

of question belonged to our sphere of

interest.

The treaty was practically completed

at the time of the King's visit to Berlin in May, 1913.

A convention then

took place in Berlin under the presidency of the Imperial Chancellor (Herr von Bethmann Hollweg), in which I

took part, and at which special wishes

of question belonged to our sphere of

interest.

The treaty was practically completed

at the time of the King's visit to Berlin in May, 1913.

A convention then

took place in Berlin under the presidency of the Imperial Chancellor (Herr von Bethmann Hollweg), in which I

took part, and at which special wishes

of question belonged to our sphere of

interest.

The treaty was practically completed

at the time of the King's visit to Berlin in May, 1913.

A convention then

took place in Berlin under the presidency of the Imperial Chancellor (Herr von Bethmann Hollweg), in which I

took part, and at which special wishes

of question belonged to our sphere of

interest.

The treaty was practically completed

at the time of the King's visit to Berlin in May, 1913.

A convention then

took place in Berlin under the presidency of the Imperial Chancellor (Herr von Bethmann Hollweg), in which I

took part, and at which special wishes

of question belonged to our sphere of

interest.

The treaty was practically completed

at the time of the King's visit to Berlin in May, 1913.

A convention then

took place in Berlin under the presidency of the Imperial Chancellor (Herr von Bethmann Hollweg), in which I

took part, and at which special wishes

of question belonged to our sphere of

interest.

The treaty was practically completed

at the time of the King's visit to Berlin in May, 1913.

A convention then

took place in Berlin under the presidency of the Imperial Chancellor (Herr von Bethmann Hollweg), in which I

took part, and at which special wishes

of question belonged to our sphere of

interest.

The treaty was practically completed

at the time of the King's visit to Berlin in May, 1913.

A convention then

took place in Berlin under the presidency of the Imperial Chancellor (Herr von Bethmann Hollweg), in which I

took part, and at which special wishes

of question belonged to our sphere of

interest.

The treaty was practically completed

at the time of the King's visit to Berlin in May, 1913.

A convention then

took place in Berlin under the presidency of the Imperial Chancellor (Herr von Bethmann Hollweg), in which I

took part, and at which special wishes

of question belonged to our sphere of

interest.

The treaty was practically completed

at the time of the King's visit to Berlin in May, 1913.

A convention then

took place in Berlin under the presidency of the Imperial Chancellor (Herr von Bethmann Hollweg), in which I

took part, and at which special wishes

of question belonged to our sphere of

interest.

The treaty was practically completed

at the time of the King's visit to Berlin in May, 1913.

A convention then

took place in Berlin under the presidency of the Imperial Chancellor (Herr von Bethmann Hollweg), in which I

took part, and at which special wishes

of question belonged to our sphere of

interest.

The treaty was practically completed

at the time of the King's visit to Berlin in May, 1913.

A convention then

took place in Berlin under the presidency of the Imperial Chancellor (Herr von Bethmann Hollweg), in which I

took part, and at which special wishes

of question belonged to our sphere of

interest.

The treaty was practically completed

at the time of the King's visit to Berlin in May, 1913.

A convention then

took place in Berlin under the presidency of the Imperial Chancellor (Herr von Bethmann Hollweg), in which I

took part, and at which special wishes

of question belonged to our sphere of

interest.

The treaty was practically completed

at the time of the King's visit to Berlin in May, 1913.

A convention then

took place in Berlin under the presidency of the Imperial Chancellor (Herr von Bethmann Hollweg), in which I

took part, and at which special wishes

of question belonged to our sphere of

interest.

The treaty was practically completed

at the time of the King's visit to Berlin in May, 1913.

A convention then

took place in Berlin under the presidency of the Imperial Chancellor (Herr von Bethmann Hollweg), in which I

took part, and at which special wishes

of question belonged to our sphere of

interest.

The treaty was practically completed

at the time of the King's visit to Berlin in May, 1913.

A convention then